

MILLERAND FORCED TO RESIGN AS PRESIDENT OF FRANCE

CHAMBER URGES SENATE TO PASS RAILWAY BILLS

Meeting Called Following Criticism of Island Development

Would Open Virgin Territory And Make Island System Remunerative

Strong arguments against the threatened blocking of the Canadian National Railway branch line bills, calling for thirty-four miles of work on Vancouver Island, were advanced at a special meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce held yesterday afternoon. After being passed by the House of Commons each branch line bill, including those for Vancouver Island, is being criticized by the Senate Railway Committee and in a night letter the directors concisely and forcefully presented arguments for the line development on the island. The bill was sent last night to the Hon. W. L.
Mackenzie King, Premier; Hon.
Arthur Meighen, leader of the Opposition; Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works; Hon. H. Bostock, and the Right Hon. Sir George Foster.

The message reads:
"Business interests assembled to-day passed a resolution strongly urging the passage of Canadian National Branch Lines
Bills for Vancouver Island. The Island possesses over two million acres of first-class standing timber. The projected road would provide an immediate outlet to supply saw mills and prove remunerative from its inception.
Similar roads are operated by the Canadian Pacific. Most profitable unit on their system and cannot cope with the present traffic. They are proposing double tracking. The lines would open up virgin dormant territory and would make entire National system on island remunerative."
"C. P. W. SCHWENGER,
President, Victoria Chamber of Commerce."

CROW'S NEST PASS
The Crow's Nest Pass Agreement was also taken up at the special meeting and in a telegram to Premier King, Hon. Dr. J. H. King and Hon.
Arthur Meighen it was pointed out that large industries had been built up on this coast on the suspension of the Crow's Nest Pass rates and suspension on manufactured products was strongly urged. The telegram reads:
"Whilst approving the continuance of the Crow's Nest Agreement rates on grain and farm products we strongly urge suspension on manufactured merchandise. Large industries on this coast have been built up based on rates applicable by Crow's Nest suspension and a discriminatory charge would be a serious blow and result in great unemployment or obliteration of operations. Relief should be sought by utilization of Panama route and reduction in mountain scale to produce minimum freight costs to prairie consumers."
"C. P. W. SCHWENGER,
President, Victoria Chamber of Commerce."

MILL DAY FERRY TENDERS SOUGHT

Government Invites Applications For Five-Year Charter

Following the decision of the Provincial Government to build the ferry wharves at Mill Bay for an automobile ferry to cut off the Malahat ferries and other cars desiring to use it, and to keep open the road to the upper end of the island, tenders are called this morning for a boat to ply in the service.
Application are invited for a charter
for a ferry to ply between Vedder Avenue and Totinlet and a point on the opposite side of Saanich inlet, in the vicinity of Camp Point. The charter is for a five-year period ending June 30, 1929.
A description of the vessel it is proposed to use, the schedule of rates to be charged and the capacity of the boat must be described in the tenders which must be forwarded to the Minister of Public Works by next Monday.

NEW CABINET IN JAPANESE EMPIRE

Names of Premier Kato's
Colleagues to be Announced
To-morrow

Tokio, June 10.—Personnel of the new Japanese Cabinet, headed by Viscount Kato and composed of representatives of the three parties opposing former Premier Kiyoura, was announced.
The new government will be inaugurated to-morrow morning.
Vancouver, June 10.—The body of Miller Howell, twenty-one, who fell off the wharf at Whonnock into the Fraser River a few days ago, has been recovered.

Ottawa Session Now is Expected To End in July

Ottawa, June 10.—At the end of a Liberal caucus to-day it was intimated that the present session of Parliament would not end until the first week of the middle of July, unless there is a severe curtailment of business still to come. Redistribution is still before the special committee.

POSTAL WORKERS IN TORONTO TO DECIDE SUNDAY NEXT IF NEW SALARY LEVELS TO BE ACCEPTED

Toronto, June 10.—Although the new salaries for letter carriers and other postal workers as announced by the Federal Government last night mean decreases in some cases with the withdrawal of the War Bonus, it will not be known until Sunday next whether or not the postal workers here will demand a strike as the result of the new gradings. There will be a mass meeting of the men on Sunday to decide on action.

PLANS IMPORTANT DOWN TOWN SCHEME

Proposal to Open Bottle Neck of Blanshard Ave. Between Pandora and Fisgard

Half the Property Already Has Reverted to City Control

An improvement of great importance is contemplated on Blanshard Street, where it joins Pandora Avenue, which will remove the bottle neck which has been of long-standing menace to traffic.
The announcement is made in connection with the proposed sale of part of Lot 7 of City Lot 1257 to a syndicate for whom Pemberton & Son are agents, and composed of H. R.
Goodwin, F. W. Hatterick, and G.
Clemo for $12,000, together with an option to purchase for $3,000 an irregular quadrilateral piece of land which will be created if the city widens Blanshard Street at this point to 100 feet. Blanshard is a fine wide street up to the Jewish synagogue, and then the bottle neck begins between the auction rooms (formerly a Congregational church) and the old First Presbyterian church.
The city is in an exceptional position to treat with property owners, as it already owns more than half the property required for the improvement. The effect of the contemplated improvement would be to restore Blanshard Street north of Pandora Avenue to the original division, and which had town planning has denied it.

Two Inquests in New Westminster

New Westminster, June 10.—Inquests are being held this morning into two deaths, allegedly by suicide,
at the Provincial Mental Hospital,
here on Monday. The body of Mrs.
S. Massey, for fifteen years an inmate of the institution, was found hanging from the door of her room, while Mrs. Harry Norman, died in hospital after being rushed from her home, where she is thought to have taken poison. She had been an inmate for some time, but showing some improvement, had been taken home by her husband.

Physicians of U.S. Urge Change in Prohibition Law

Chicago, June 10.—The House of Delegates of the American Medical Association, in convention to-day, adopted a resolution calling for the repeal of those sections of the national prohibition act which interfere with the proper relations between the physician and his patient in prescribing alcohol medicinally.

GOOD HORSEMANSHIP DISPLAYED BY KING

Royal Rider Proceeded Home Along a Quiet Route After Troop Review

Aldershot, Eng., June 10.—The excellent horsemanship of King George got him out of a tight place this afternoon and saved him from a possible serious mishap. As the King was leaving the parade ground on his horse after reviewing troops his horse became frightened at the cheering crowd. The animal "bucked" and nearly collided with a horse ridden by the Duke of Connaught beside the Queen's carriage.

States Marine Corps were killed today in an airplane accident in Stafford County, Virginia. Hall was from Crockett, Texas, and Lehman was from Maryland, N.C.

PRINCE RUPERT HAVE AN ELEVATOR

Provision to be Made in Supplementary Estimates, Says
Premier King

Meighen Urges Estimates be Brought Down Soon as Possible

Ottawa, June 10.—Provision for a terminal grain elevator at Prince Rupert is to be made in the supplementary estimates, Premier King stated in the House of Commons this afternoon.
The matter was brought up by General Ross, Conservative Kingston, who asked regarding the correctness of a statement in a Vancouver newspaper that the Prime Minister had promised the construction of such an elevator.
Mr. King replied that he did not remember having made the promise.
However, the Government had received a request for the elevator last year from a deputation and had since had representations made to it by Alfred Stork, Liberal member for Skeena. Mr. King added that an item for the elevator at Prince Rupert would appear in the supplementary estimates.

Number of Businessmen Behind Anti-United States
Agitation in Japan

Five of Ruffians Who Broke Up Tokio Dance to be Punished

Tokio, June 10.—More sordid motives than those of patriotism are backing the anti-United States agitation, which has followed enactment in the United States of the immigration law barring Japanese, in the opinion of Government officials and businessmen here.
According to statements made by them to-day, the agitation is being supported by certain Japanese business men and manufacturers who desire to eliminate foreign competition in the Japanese markets and who have seized on the situation created by passage of the exclusion act as a means to that end.

MRS. SAYWARD VERY LOW

A cablegram received from London to-day states that Mrs. J. E. Say-ward is very low. Mrs. Sayward left with Mr. and Miss Sayward on the Empress of Canada in February last for a world tour, but drink to Mrs.
Sayward's failing health they left the Empress in Europe and returned to London. Since that time Mrs. Say-ward's condition has been causing grave anxiety and several prominent physicians have been in attendance.

TAKING PART IN ISLAND CAMPAIGN; J. W. de B. FARRIS

Expectation Forty Cars Will Roll East During Present
Season From Island

The strawberry growers of the Saanich peninsula, greatly encouraged by cloudy skies, began to-day the annual carload shipments to the prairies. They follow in the wake of carload lots from the Lower Mainland, which began a week ago. The first car left this morning, and another will be loaded later in the day.
There will be a movement of two to three carloads daily, but irregularly if cool weather will stay the too rapid ripening of the fruit, and while the original estimate was forty cars from the peninsula, Manager H. E.
Tanner, of the Saanich Fruitgrowers' Association, doubts if the number will reach that figure. Only dull weather and a little rain before the crop advances much further will save the situation.

NEW DEVICE ENABLES 700 TO HEAR A HEART BEATING

Chicago, June 10. More than 700 heart specialists among the 15,000 physicians attending the seventy-fifth annual convention of the American Medical Association listened simultaneously to-day to the pulsation of a heart. The demonstration, made possible through the use of a giant stethoscope, was a feature of the opening of the convention. It was asserted the new instrument would permit medical students to acquire in three days technical knowledge previously taking three months.

Amendment to Church Union
Resolution Was Ruled Out
at Session

Owen Sound, Ont., June 10
(Canadian Press).—The Presbyterian General Assembly decided this morning to meet next year in College Street Church, Toronto.
Discussion of church union was resumed to-day. The first two resolutions of the report of the committee of union were adopted by large majorities yesterday, but there were still two resolutions to be adopted when the Assembly met on Friday. One of the resolutions was to the effect that the committee be continued and that the name of Rev. Dr. Gander be substituted for that of A. Mac-Murray, K.C., and that the name of Rev. Dr. E. Leslie Pidgeon be substituted for that of the late Rev. Dr. J. Turnbull, Ontario.

PREMIER IN EXPENSES LAUSANNE EVENTS

Canada Not Represented at Negotiations With Turks,
King Says

Country Bound by Ratification, However; Debate in Commons

Ottawa, June 10.—"We have not in the past, we do not now, take the view that Canada is not bound legally by this treaty when it is ratified, but we do say that the moral obligation resting upon this Government under this treaty, when it is ratified, will be vastly different from the moral obligation imposed on this country under the Treaty of Versailles, having regard to the difficult manner in which the whole negotiations were carried on."

So said Premier King in the House yesterday afternoon, in defence of his attitude toward the famous Treaty of Lausanne.

The debate came on the estimates of the Department of External Affairs.

T. Shaw, West Calgary, moved an amendment that the vote for the department before the House be reduced by one dollar in view of the action of the Government in not submitting the Lausanne Treaty to Parliament for approval.

The amendment was ruled out of order and the debate was passed.

NOT REPRESENTED
Premier King, reviewed at length his much-discussed correspondence with the British Government over the Lausanne Conference, denying that Canada had been represented at Lausanne.

He declared that at the Imperial Conference he had distinctly stated that Canada had not been represented at Lausanne. He had then, Premier King said, given the reasons why Canada did not take exception to being represented at Lausanne.

WITHIN THE EMPIRE
The Premier spoke of three possible future developments in Canadian affairs. There might be complete independence, there might be annexation to the United States, or there might be more clearly recognized national status within the Commonwealth of the British Empire. It was because the Premier believed so strongly in the third of these three possible developments that he had been willing to risk censure in taking the stand of Canada as a nation within the Empire, having gained equality of status with the other Dominions and the Mother Country.

What was needed, he said, was a united Canada that would have one aim and one purpose and find its unity within the British Empire.

The British public through the British Parliament had not been informed accurately as to Canada's position with regard to the treaty, said the Premier. The different parts of the Empire had been misinformed by the editorial in The London Times dated April 23, 1924, in which it was stated that the Prime Minister of Canada had agreed to Lord Curzon as the Imperial representative. The statement of The Times was erroneous, said Mr. King.

MR. MEIGHEN'S VIEWS
Mr. Meighen, Conservative leader, took the ground that Canada should have declared her interest in the matter and her right to be represented at least on the British delegation and her right to present her views.

"After a series of months of disputation," Mr. Meighen declared, "we find ourselves bound by the provisions of a treaty in the negotiation of which we had nothing more to do than had Chile. We find ourselves, in a word, back in the status of the old colonial days."

Mr. Meighen expressed the view as a general principle that it was wrong policy for Great Britain to be aligned with any group in Europe. Such a policy was, in his opinion, wrong because it was a world power and not merely a European power. He declared himself ready to vote for a motion approving ratification if the Premier would introduce it. He would not oppose the holding of a constitutional conference if the Premier favored it, but he predicted that the Premier would go through another Imperial conference if the Government lasted that long without proposing a conference on the constitution.

A CHALLENGE
"Mr. King challenged, addressing the holder of the Opposition," my right honorable friend thinks we have not taken a right course in not submitting this treaty for approval, let him bring it any time between now and the conclusion of this session a resolution condemning the Government for not having submitted the Lausanne Treaty to the House for debate and see what the result will be."

FORKE'S VIEWS
Robert Forke, Progressive leader, questioned whether Canada really had the status of a nation. If Canada was going to enjoy the privileges of a nation she should be willing to accept the responsibility.

"We are not a nation; we are not a colony; we are not a dominion; we are something more than a colony and a little less than a nation."

Canada's very relationship with the British Empire encouraged certain dangers, he said, but he hoped sincerely that whatever the future brought this country would continue to be part of the Empire.

"CRAZY WORK"
Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, declared of Mr. Meighen's speech that "a more self-contradictory, whimsical piece of political crazy work has never been exhibited in the world since the organization of the National Liberal-Conservative Party."

LIEUT. GOVERNOR TO

The Lieutenant-Governor has consented to perform the opening ceremony at the two-day gymkhana and polo match which is to be staged at the Willows on June 26 and 27 under the auspices of the I.O.D.E. His Honor will be attended by a military escort, adding much to the picturesque of the proceedings.

Many handsome prizes will be offered in the various events. The list of which will be published later.

Tickets for the affair will be on sale next week in a store in the Bayward Building, the ticket sale being in the hands of the I.O.D.E. The proceeds will be devoted to the Order's War Memorial fund.

REPORTS ON HUDSON BAY LINE TABLED

Commons Informed of Engineers' Opinions; a Highway For Patrols

Ottawa, June 10.—While the Hudson Bay Railway, in his opinion, was of no value to the prairies as a grain route, it should be retained as "a provision entrance in the military sense," D. W. McLaughlin, engineer in charge of operations at Port Nelson, recommends to the Department of Railways in a further report dated February 5, 1923.

The recommendation of S. J. Hungerford that the steel from Mile 214 to Mile 349 should be laid on and used elsewhere is not concurred in by Mr. McLaughlin, who points out that the highway provided by this railway is valuable for police and game patrol by way of Port Nelson, at $12.53 per long ton from Port Nelson to Port Nelson.

Reports of Engineer McLaughlin, subsequent to those of 1917, tabled some days ago, were tabled in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

He estimates the rate from Humboldt, Sask., as a representative shipping point to Liverpool, by way of Port Nelson, at $12.53 per long ton from Port Nelson to Port Nelson.

He estimates the rate from the present lake and rail route the rate would be $12.11, he says. By way of the proposed St. Lawrence deep waterway it could be reduced to $10.94.

STOOD THE TEST
The reports dealing with Port Nelson itself grew more optimistic in later years. In 1923 it was found that the artificial island built there as a base for operations was strong enough to stand the test of ice action, storms and tides. Surveys of the island proved that it was feasible to provide for the accommodations of ships up to 26 feet draft, "but no anchorage for such ships can be provided except in huge excavations within twenty miles of the proposed docks. Strong tidal currents and low distant shores will always prevent ships entering or leaving Port Nelson except during clear weather the report adds. The season of navigation, Mr. McLaughlin says, will not be entirely free from ice during that period, however.

To accommodate such ships, the report says, "four miles of dredging would be necessary to twenty feet below low water level, 4,000 feet of dock wall must be built."

A report on potential traffic from R. A. Henry, chief engineer of the National Railways, dated at Toronto, March 14, 1918, also was tabled yesterday and agrees that the cost of handling at Port Nelson harbor would be higher.

Mr. Henry thinks there is sufficient grain traffic out-bound and a potential coal traffic in-bound to make the road pay. The fact that navigation has not been proved safe, however, would prevent private companies from putting in a fleet of ships.

The Government would have to provide a line of vessels. Grain would have to be left over from the previous season to provide cargoes for the first ships coming in.

KIDNAPPING CHARGE
TO BE HEARD FIRST

Leopold and Loeb Will Face Murder Charge Afterward
in Chicago

Will be Arraigned To-morrow
As Result of Death of Franks Boy

Chicago, June 10.—Nathan Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb, admitted kidnapers and slayers of fourteen-year-old Robert Franks, will be tried first on a charge of kidnapping for ransom preliminary to their trial on the murder charge.

The case for those opposed to the great change in the law was presented by Rev. Dr. Ephraim Scott, Rev. J. S. Short of Olds, Alta., Col. Carmichael, of Springfield, Mo., and others. Dr. Scott is known to all Presbyterian ministers and has fought this movement consistently from the start. Rev. J. S. Short won the plaudits of every union man in the Assembly by his moderation and evident desire for the best solution of the vexed question. The same may be said of the statement of Colonel Carmichael.

DR. PIDGEON'S VIEWS
Rev. Dr. G. C. Pidgeon, in his final statement to the Assembly, in part said:

"A great deal of protest had been made against coercion. The union committee has done everything in its power to remove even the appearance of coercion from the legislation. Two years ago the committee passed a resolution giving six months before the bill came into effect in which congregations might vote not to concur in the union. This proposal was borne by those opposed to the union. As Ottawa, as they did all over the country, they persisted in the charge of coercion and members of Parliament suggested the same amendment. This would allow each congregation to stay out of the union when the church went in as a whole. This the anti-unionists even refused to consider I should like to remind the Assembly that the support of Dr. Fraser's amendment would mean giving the Assembly's approval and backing to the writ issued against the union committee, because of amendment by the Private Bills Committee in Ottawa is based on that particular action."

DECISIVE VOTE ON CHURCH UNION PLAN

Presbyterian Assembly Gave Majority of 310 For the Unamended Bill

Owen Sound, Ont., June 10.—By a series of successive votes the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, dealt with the church union question here yesterday afternoon.

The first vote was taken on an amendment presented in behalf of the opponents of union by Rev. Dr. D. J. Fraser of Montreal. The amendment expressed the appreciation of the Assembly for the work done by the Private Bills Committee in Ottawa, and suggested that the final decision of the church union movement be left to the courts. It was rejected by the Assembly by a standing vote of 22 to 44.

TWO RESOLUTIONS
The definite questions before the Assembly were the reception and the adoption of two resolutions of the union committee. The first of these resolutions stated that the whole question of the spiritual independence of the churches in Canada should be referred to the courts, and that the church had the power to legislate in all matters of doctrine, etc. The second resolution stated that the Assembly declined to adopt the amendment introduced by Parliament in the Church Union Bill and asked Parliament to pass the bill as it was submitted to Parliament.

SURPRISE GIVEN
A surprise was given to the Assembly when the poll was taken on the first resolution of the union committee. It was expected this would be carried by a very large majority and under normal conditions it would be carried without debate and without consideration. The opponents of the union, however, stated that under the circumstances there were implications in it which could not be accepted and they voted against a resolution which apparently said nothing except that the church was spiritually self-determining and independent. The vote on this resolution was 123 to 21.

MAJORITY OF 310
On the second resolution, which was the amendment to the Private Bills Committee of the Commons, the vote was 403 to 92.

The Private Bills Committee of the Commons before which the Church Union Bill recently came, recommended that it be amended so that church union would not come into effect until after the coming of the road pay. The fact that navigation has not been proved safe, however, would prevent private companies from putting in a fleet of ships.

TIDE ON EBB
The vote in the assembly was an interesting commentary on one of the statements made by the opponents of the union, that the tide was ebbing. The vote in the Commons before which the Church Union Bill recently came, recommended that it be amended so that church union would not come into effect until after the coming of the road pay. The fact that navigation has not been proved safe, however, would prevent private companies from putting in a fleet of ships.

REGULATIONS OF UTILITIES
Pointing the way in domestic affairs still further, he inveighed against any tinkering with the Federal Reserve Bank System; advocated an intelligent policy of conservation with "no hundred-year franchises" nor any grant of franchises by the Government for its future protection declared for same regulation rather than Government control of public utilities, and expressed the hope that there be left to the individual the greatest possible equality of opportunity and to the states "the broadest field of activity in their proper sphere."

Declaring "our foreign relations are assuming a foreign character never known before," Mr. Burton declared members of the republican Party were "by no means lacking in interest in what is happening in the rest of the world, nor are we unwilling to co-operate in the most friendly way with less fortunate nations."

LEAGUE OF NATIONS
"We have refused to join the League of Nations, and this is in full accord with the wishes of the vast majority of the American people, as I believe," he added. "So long as the League remains a political body, inevitably dominated by the larger nations of Europe, poisoned with the tradition of age-long animosities, membership is not for us."

No fear should be felt, however, that entrance in the world-courtesy of the Harding-Hughes reservations would involve the United States in the League, he asserted. He did not refer to the amendment proposed by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, but asserted that the Harding-Hughes proposals were "sufficient safeguards and reservations to protect our own interests and they do not affect the great purposes of the court."

DISARMAMENT
Illustrative of the willingness of the United States to aid and assist other nations, the chair-climate with other nations, the Gladstone declaration that the United States stood ready to take the lead in another arms limitation conference whenever the occasion appeared suitable and that in the European reparations tangle "whenever the various nations can agree, whenever they are willing to look to the future rather than to the past, the aid of the United States will be given without taint and our boundless resources will be available in the way of loans for their rehabilitation and development."

Breach in Miners' Union is Reported

Lethbridge, June 10.—A special dispatch to The Calgary Herald from Fernie to-day states that an open breach in the ranks of the Gladstone local of the United Mine Workers of America exists, that a meeting has been called for 1.30 to-day to consider the question of breaking away and signing a local agreement with the Crown's West Coast Coal Company and that President Sherman of District 18, hearing of the proposed movement, has endeavored to prevent it by offering a $10,000 bonus to the strikers in the cause of the Fernie rebellion. The Alberta strike is now in its tenth week.

Sixty-Five New Elevators Soon in Prairie Provinces

Winnipeg, June 10.—Plans for the construction of between sixty and seventy grain elevators in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta during the present Summer have been completed by the United Grain Growers' Company Limited. The directors have sanctioned a bond issue of $300,000 recently floated by the company and the proceeds of the issue, together with other available funds, are set aside for the construction programme.

U.S. REPUBLICAN CONVENTION BEGINS

In defects and should not be taken as the last word in tax revision.

LACKED MAJORITY
Much of the blame visited upon the Republicans in the session of Congress just ended, he told the convention, however, is not deserved because on many major questions their party has not commanded a majority in either branch.

Enumerating the achievements of the Republican Party in its six years of national affairs, he said, the last four years, he paid high tribute to the memory of President Harding, told of the accomplishments under his leadership, and pronounced this benediction:

"Rest, Weary Spirit, rest in peace, secure in the lasting remembrance which belongs to the immortal."

MUCH ACCOMPLISHED
Varied and numerous were the accomplishments cited by Mr. Burton, ranging from the achievements of the Arms Conference and United States unofficial participation in the work of the reparations experts' committee through the field of domestic activities resulting from legislation and executive undertakings. He pronounced it a record on which the party proudly could take its stand, "confident that when the ballot is cast in November, in numbers like the falling leaves of Autumn this nation will elect Calvin Coolidge President, with a Republican Congress, and a new crown of efforts with victory, thereby assuring a yet more splendid future of progress and peace."

REDUCTION OF TAXATION
Turning to the future, the convention chairman declared economy in public expenditures and reduction of taxes to be of the utmost importance and that "an active campaign of education must be conducted similar to that in the free silver contest of 1896. Such a campaign, he added, should endeavor to dispel the 'perpetual fallacies' that the final burden of public levies rests upon those who first make payments to the tax collector and that excessive surtaxes are desirable and result in greater revenue."

Pointing the way in domestic affairs still further, he inveighed against any tinkering with the Federal Reserve Bank System; advocated an intelligent policy of conservation with "no hundred-year franchises" nor any grant of franchises by the Government for its future protection declared for same regulation rather than Government control of public utilities, and expressed the hope that there be left to the individual the greatest possible equality of opportunity and to the states "the broadest field of activity in their proper sphere."

CHOOSE JURY FOR TRIAL IN MONTREAL

Six Men to be Tried Together on Bank Robbery Murder Charge

Montreal, June 10.—Guisepe Serafini, Tony Frank, Frank Gamblin, Leo Davis, Louis Morel and Mike Valentino will face together the charge of bank robbery and murder in the trial of the bank hold-up on April 1 last, as soon as a jury can be got together to try them. Only five of the sixty-talemen jury yesterday were chosen. The selection of a jury is continuing to-day.

Granting a motion by R. L. Calder, K.C., for the Crown, and overruling objections argued for the defence counsel by Alban Germain, the court allowed the proceedings of trying together the six men.

E. R. PARKHURST DIED IN TORONTO

Well Known as Musical Writer of The Toronto Globe

Toronto, June 10.—Edwin R. Parkhurst, well-known musical writer of The Toronto Globe, died to-day in his seventy-seventh year. He had been ill two weeks.

Mr. Parkhurst, a talented violinist, came to Canada from England in 1870 to work as a reporter on The Toronto Daily Mail, now The Mail and Empire.

In his younger days musical and dramatic criticism was a minor part of his activities, for in 1871 he was sent to Ottawa and reported the strenuous debates of the Canadian Pacific scandal era. Later he became chief editor of The Mail, but in 1876 decided to devote himself to music exclusively to writing on musical and dramatic topics. For twenty-two years he served The Mail in that capacity, but in 1898 went to The

who has but recently returned from a stay in England, said that with added facilities for getting beer in preference to the stronger liquors, Great Britain had solved her drink problem, in less than twenty years had reduced the consumption of spirits to less than half of what it previously was. He sounded an economical note also when he reminded the meeting that beer was an all B.C. product, made by B.C. workers from barley and hops grown in this Province. He believed, he said, that the beer by the glass measure was a real step toward the goal of real temperance.

Gen. Chang Rejects Agreement Between China and Soviet

Harbin, Manchuria, June 10.—General Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian general, who recently reached by China and Soviet Russia, on the ground that the three Eastern Provinces, which are autonomous, did not participate in the negotiations. He has circled the railway police to this effect and has warned the railway management to disperse the "whites" under penalty.

The proposed solemn holding of the Soviet flag over the Russian headquarters will not be allowed.

"Nerves in Bad State Could Not Sleep"

Mrs. H. N. Tardell, Harrow, Ont., writes:

"My nerves were in a very bad state, and for nearly six months I did not know what it was to have a good night's rest. I could not eat, and never felt well. I heard about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and thought I would try it. After taking it for a few days I began to feel better, and soon was able to sleep well at night. My appetite also returned, and I felt stronger and better, and after taking three boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I was quite well. I have also given the Nerve Food to my little girl, with good results."

NEWFOUNDLAND HAS A NEW MINISTRY

Walter Monroe at Head of Cabinet in Power as Result of General Election

St. John's, Nfld., June 10 (Canadian Press)—Premier Albert Hickman, whose party was defeated in the Newfoundland general election June 2, presented his resignation to Governor Allard yesterday and Walter Monroe was invited to form a new Ministry. The new Premier, whose party was given a commanding majority in the election, assumed office late in the day.

The new Cabinet, as announced last night, is as follows: Walter Monroe, Premier and Minister of Education; William Higgins, Minister of Justice; John Bennett, Colonial Secretary; Sir John Crosbie, Minister of Finance; William Woodford, Postmaster-General; Albert Morine, Leader of the Upper House; Michael Sullivan, Richard Cramm, Gordon Bradley and Joseph Long, Ministers without portfolios.

Ministers outside the Cabinet are: William Walsh, Agriculture; William Windsor, Fisheries; Charles Russell, Public Works. It was also announced that the Legislature would be summoned to meet within two weeks to enable the passage of some of the money votes before the fiscal year begins on July 10.

Nomination day for bye-elections for Cabinet Ministers is fixed for June 20 and polling day will be June 30. It is not believed here the elections will be contested.

NUMBER OF BILLS TO BE DISCUSSED

More Than Dozen Measures Before Session at Ottawa Ends

Ottawa, June 10.—A list of more than a dozen bills to be introduced in Parliament this session by the Government was given to the House yesterday by Premier King, who added that circumstances might make it necessary to add some other pieces of legislation before prorogation. In addition to the measures to come from the committee dealing with redistribution, banking, superannuation, soldiers' and old age pensions, the Premier announced amendments to the Dominion Elections Act, the Yukon Act, the Criminal Code, the Immigration Act, the Feeding Stuffs Act, the Dominion Land Titles Act, the Gold and Silver Marking Act, the Animals Act and the act in regard to Great Lakes freight rates on grain.

There would also be a bill, he said, to consolidate the revenue collecting services of the Government, loans to one or more harbor commissions, and there might be bills to ratify certain commercial treaties.

Deputy Sheriffs Killed a Man on Road Near Seattle

Seattle, June 10.—A man whose name is given as Frank Martin was shot and killed in a fusillade sent after a speeding automobile by two deputy sheriffs on the Des Moines Highway south of the city yesterday. The car, according to the deputies, had fled when they showed a badge with a flashlight and ordered it to stop.

Winnipeg, June 10 (Canadian Press)—Following generally favorable weather during the past week and good rains during the week-end, the crop situation in Western Canada is very promising, according to the weekly report of the agriculture department of the Canadian Pacific Railway issued here to-day. Wheat and coarse grains are all up and showing a good healthy color and farmers are more optimistic than usual regarding the crop prospects. The blossom season is practically over in British Columbia. The set of fruit on the whole is heavy on all varieties of apples and late pears, but light on cherries, early pears and plums. Early strawberries have appeared, but the bulk of the crop will not start to move for from ten days to two weeks. Owing to the prolonged drought, grain, grass and root crops are expected to be on the light side.

SIR DAVID BRUCE VISITS TORONTO

Will Deliver Presidential Address at British Association's Annual Meeting

Toronto, June 10 (Canadian Press)—"Canadians will be honored in August with a visit by Major-General Sir David Bruce, F.R.S., world famous parasitologist, who will come to Toronto to preside over the ninety-second annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science. His inaugural address to that body will rank as the outstanding public scientific pronouncement of the year, at least as far as the Empire is concerned. Election to the presidency of the British association is regarded as one of the highest marks of recognition which Great Britain can bestow on scientists, and in Sir David Bruce there was selected one whose successful campaign in the medical battle against certain widespread diseases has rendered him entirely worthy of the distinction.

Sir David has chosen as the subject of his presidential dissertation, "Advances Made in Our Knowledge of Disease." In keeping with the aims of the association, previous presidential addresses have drawn public attention to the recent strides which have been made in various branches of research and incidentally to the slaughter of the human race by the disease which he is studying. The field chosen by the president of the Toronto meeting is peculiarly adapted for this theme, as it is in medicine that the greatest advances have been made in the last few years. It is only when these advances are put upon scientific study and research.

OF PRACTICAL IMPORTANCE

In his studies of sleeping sickness and allied maladies, Bruce has shed light upon the whole subject of the interrelation between human and animal disease. His work has demonstrated how topics assigned to the realm of so-called pure science may become of immediate practical importance. In their crusade against the sleeping sickness which has taken millions of lives in Central Africa, Sir David, ably assisted by Lady Bruce, was able to show that the infection was spread by the bite of the tsetse fly, although the insect itself does not possess a venom. The parasites which prey alternately on the fly and on human beings were finally isolated, and named Trypanosoma Brucei, in honor of their discoverer. With its origin and method of transmission made plain, the method of combating the disease was obvious, and energetic enforcement of preventive measures has resulted in the slaughter of the disease which the dread sleeping sickness caused each year in Africa.

In dealing with a disease of this kind, clinical study of the effects of the affliction accomplishes little, and it is only when these observations are co-ordinated with the researches of entomologists and microbiologists, that they can be coped with successfully. Sir David's laboratory study in the laboratory with insects and the microscope may be directly instrumental in the saving of human lives.

MALTA FEVER

In a similar way, Bruce contributed in large measure to the control of the Malta fever, which was formerly prevalent in the Mediterranean region. As head of a commission formed by the two scientific societies to study the disease, he tracked the infection down to the goats whose milk was a regular article of diet. Investigation showed that nearly all the goats were infected, and that drinking of their milk was a certain method of catching the disease, since experiments on animals showed that it could be transmitted through the mouth. When the drinking of goat's milk was advised against, the number of cases of Malta fever dwindled almost to nothing.

WAR ADVANCES

Sir David will develop in his address the stimulus which was given by the war to the study of infectious diseases. He is particularly fitted to discuss this phase of modern medicine owing to his activities in connection with trench fever and typhus. Presiding over the tetanus committee, he personally carried out the collection and analysis of data regarding tetanus on a scale never previously attempted. His figures are a valuable addition to knowledge of the disease.

In the later years of the war while acting as chairman of the committee on trench fever, he undertook the conduct of enquiries which together with other investigations made by workers on newly recognized disease by lice, and thus indicated the means for its control.

HONORS GIVEN

The contributions which Bruce has made to the knowledge of parasitic diseases have been given recognition by societies throughout the world. In 1921 he was awarded the Buchanan Medal of the Royal Society. Perhaps the most significant of the distinctions which have been conferred upon him was his election to the chairmanship of the board of governors of the Lister Institute, where he has exercised a guiding hand for many years.

I.O.F. TO MEET AT NIAGARA FALLS, ONT.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 10.—People of Canada and the United States will mingle in friendship where their forefathers met in deadly battle at the celebration of the golden jubilee anniversary of the Independent Order of Foresters, which will open here on June 19.

"Two famous battles of the war of 1812, Queenston Heights and Lundy's Lane," said W. H. Hunter, supreme chief ranger of the society, "were fought on the ground where thousands of Foresters from the United States and Canada will gather for the jubilee. The golden jubilee of the society, Mr. Hunter pointed out, will further the entente cordiale between Canada and America. Curtis D. Wilbur, Secretary of the Navy of the United States, and Premier G. Howard Ferguson of Ontario will be the principal speakers. The celebration will last four days, concluding on June 22 with a memorial service in Toronto, the headquarters of the order.

DECLARE FOR FREIGHT RATE AGREEMENT

Winnipeg Citizens Call For Restoration of Crow's Nest Schedules

Winnipeg, June 10.—Opposition to further suspension of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement and to the application of the railway companies for placing the whole question of rates in the hands of the Railway Commission, and a demand for the restoration on July 6 of the rates laid down in the agreement, which was described as "Western Canada's charter of rights," was expressed in a resolution unanimously passed at a public meeting held here last night under the auspices of the Board of Trade.

The Provincial Government, the Liberal and Conservative parties, the Retail Merchants' Association and various other organizations were represented at the meeting, so the resolution passed can well be described as expressive of the sentiments of Winnipeg generally on the matter.

The speakers included Premier John Bracken; R. A. C. Manning, managing director of the Western Canada Coal Company; Travers Sweetman, K.C., president of the Board of Trade; Major F. G. Taylor, M.P.P., Portage la Prairie, leader of the Conservative Party in the province; F. G. Mellon, president of the Liberal Association; and J. A. Hanfield, president of the Dominion Retail Merchants' Association.

OTTAWA LEARNING

Edmonton, June 10.—The Alberta Government has retained counsel, in conjunction with the Government of Manitoba, to press the interests and claims of this province in connection with the Crow's Nest freight rates, the suspension of which is due to expire July 1. It is understood, however, that the province is not prepared to take any action until the various interests concerned will have an opportunity to state their case.

NEW POSTAL PAY RATES MADE PUBLIC

Order-in-Council Tabled in Commons Early To-day

Ottawa, June 10.—An Order-in-Council embodying the increased rates of pay granted to postal employees was tabled in the House of Commons at 1:30 o'clock this morning, just before adjournment. The Order is based on the report of the Civil Service Commission, dated May 8. This Order was submitted to the Board of Audit, and upon being again referred to the Civil Service Commission, that body reported that "the rates of compensation therein proposed are just and equitable," and again submitted them for consideration by the Cabinet.

The new scale of wages for postal workers is retroactive to April 1. In the case of the inside staff, the new scale absorbs the cost of living bonus which the Government had proposed to cut off, and in some cases provides small increases. In the case of letter carriers and postal porters, the new scale does not quite equal the old wage and bonus combined. The pay of postal workers is to run from a minimum of $1,080, to a maximum of $1,580 a year, and that of letter carriers and postal porters from a minimum of $1,030 to a maximum of $1,440 a year.

FOUND NO LIQUOR STILL IN CELLAR

Los Angeles, June 10.—Members of the district attorney's "dry" squad raided Charlie Chaplin's home in Beverly Hills yesterday, acting on an anonymous tip, and found that the motion picture actor's cellar was indeed crowded with queer copper pipes and that there was a contraption with a gas flame burning beneath it, all very suspicious-looking. After asking questions, however, they learned what their informant had not taken the trouble to find out. The queer boiler and the copper coils constituted a water softening device. Beverly Hills water is too hard for domestic use, Chaplin's representatives explained.

SHOULD BE IN OTTAWA

If the Senate approves the action of its Railway Committee in rejecting the bill for Canadian National extensions on Vancouver Island this important work will be indefinitely suspended. Every influence, therefore, should be exercised at Ottawa to induce the Senators to throw out this recommendation of its committee.

Dr. Simon Tolmie, the representative of Victoria in the House of Commons, should be in Ottawa vigorously championing this project among his party friends in the Senate, instead of campaigning for the election of Mr. Bowser and his followers in this Province. Dr. Tolmie was elected to look after the interests of this constituency in the House of Commons, not as a supporter of Mr. Bowser in the Provincial Legislature.

The Colonist reports Dr. Tolmie as "laughingly" saying that members of Parliament are allowed to absent themselves fifteen days from every session. This is true, but why choose a time when legislation vitally affecting the well-being of this community is being jeopardized? The Doctor must have known that the Senate would be dealing with the branch lines bill about this time. He presumably has some influence among his party friends, who are the chief opponents of the Canadian National proposal. He ought to be at Ottawa using it.

Sir Henry Thornton has sent a message to the Victoria Chamber of Commerce pointing out that the projected extensions were vitally necessary to the successful operation of the Canadian National system on this Island and would have been of marked value in improving general business conditions. He urgently asked for their adoption.

Surely, if ever there ever is a time when Victoria's representative should be most active on the job at Ottawa that time is now.

CITY HALL POLITICIANS THE MORE VULNERABLE

CITY HALL politicians, who are candidates of both opposition parties in the present campaign, are charging John Oliver as Premier and his Government with the most terrible political deeds which they can imagine.

But John Oliver in handling the much more difficult affairs of this Province has never been accused, even by his bitterest political opponents, of anything comparable with the choice bungling which characterized the manner of construction of the Johnson Street Bridge under men in the City Council who now set themselves up as critics of the Government.

INCOME TAX AND ITS EVASION

CANADA has about 9,000,000 people. Of these only 281,812 last year paid income tax. In the United States there are 110,000,000 people, and the actual number making income-tax returns was only 7,000,000. Both in Canada and the United States there is a suspicion that many people who ought to pay the tax are not doing so. As far as Canada is concerned the suspicion is heightened by a study of amounts collected from various classes. Last year the tax came from the following:

Farmers	$ 473,949
Professionals	2,662,900
Employees	15,529,949
Merchants	5,474,256
Manufacturers	570,251
Not classified	490,946
Business profits	28,022,142
All others	6,855,950

One thing that appears quite certain from the above is that one class pays its full share, namely, the employees. The Montreal Herald, which has raised the question, points out that the officials can check up this class quite easily, since every employer has to supply the Government with his pay rolls. But the figures give no certainty that the other classes pay their full share, and how to make them do so is a problem.

In the United States, where tax evasion is suspected on a large scale, a move has arisen for increasing the effectiveness of the law in reaching those who should pay. It is proposed to do this by making income-tax returns public on the theory that publicity would help in smoking out many evaders. These proposals have been incorporated in the Norris amendment to the Tax Bill which has been passed by Congress.

Such a proposal indicates the lengths to which government is reaching in these latter days. It would cause a howl of indignation in this country if income-tax returns were made public or any such means adopted of intimidating evaders of the tax. But the law should be equally and impartially enforced. Perfection in this respect may be unattainable, but it should be the ideal.

FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA'S WOMEN AND CHILDREN

MOTHERS' Pensions and the Minimum Wage for Women and Girls were mentioned here a few days ago as important social legislation put through by John Oliver's Government, the mere mention of which at a Conservative meeting was enough to dampen any enthusiasm and cause one to be rated as decided unpopular in circles where nothing is considered good unless it belittles the Government.

Mr. Hinchliffe was rash enough a few nights ago to mention these two measures at the Conservative meeting and admit that they were good legislation. But in the newspaper report next morning his references formed about the only part of the meeting that was not punctuated with cheers. Everything else the Government had done was denounced with great gusto as unqualifiedly bad.

But these two measures, Mothers' Pensions and Minimum Wage are only two of more than a score of advanced measures which have been put through under John Oliver for the material benefit and protection of women and children of this Province. Perhaps Mr. Hinchliffe would like to have a few of the others recalled to him as he shows no more enthusiasm than any other of the Conservative speakers about mentioning them.

Here Mr. Hinchliffe, are a few more of these social legislation measures for which the country has to thank John Oliver and those men who are co-operating with him:

Deserted Wives' Maintenance Act.

The maintenance of parents by their children.

Adequate provision for widows and children.

Maternity protection for prospective mothers who are obliged to earn a living.

Protection of women and girls working in restaurants, laundries or other places where police consider such protection necessary.

Prohibition of employment of women during the night in any industrial undertaking.

Provision for validating conveyance of land or assignment of personal property from wife to husband, as well as husband to wife, without intervention of trustees.

That subsequent marriage legitimizes from birth children born out of wedlock.

Incorporation of graduate nurses, registration of qualified nurses, and for examination of nurses.

Protection of unmarried mothers, and children born out of wedlock.

The equal guardianship of infants.

Limiting the employment of children and prohibiting night employment of all under 18 years of age.

The proper care of neglected children.

The establishment of Juvenile Courts so that children may not be associated with criminals.

The detention and special training of sub-normal children.

The employment of dental surgeons and nurses every school day at the schools, and for free treatment of venereal diseases.

Perhaps Mr. Hinchliffe and all the other Conservative speakers throughout the country are a little timid about mentioning what John Oliver, the hard-working farmer-Premier, has accomplished along these lines for the good of the masses of the people of this Province, because of the contrast such reference provides with the wild orgy of speculation and of grabbing the natural resources of the Province by promoters which characterized the days before Mr. Bowser and his companions had to be turned out of office.

A professor says there should be no age limits fixed for bobbed hair. From what we have noticed there isn't.

Hard to say whether General McRae's disappearance from the campaign for the last week has been for the purpose of aiding his party or to guard his bank book from demands of his followers for more campaign expenses.

Mr. Herbert Marler, M.P., of Montreal, pleads for protection not to make the manufacturer rich, but to keep Canadians from going to the United States. The Halifax Chronicle declares that the only thing wrong about this is that both of these results have followed under protection, and the tariff which is held as sacrosanct in St. James Street, where Mr. Marler spoke.

UNREASONABLE, BUT PROBABLE

From The Camrose Canadian
It is not unreasonable to expect two bumper crops in succession, but at the present time everything points in that direction.

NOT SO WET AFTER ALL IN ALBERTA

From The Leduc Representative
The amount of real beer that is going to be consumed in public drinking places under the new Act is over-estimated. The years of prohibition accomplished a lot more than some people like to think.

TO MONOCLE OR NOT TO MONOCLE?

From The Edmonton Journal
A French commandant in Germany has forbidden his officers to wear the monocle as a badge of Prussian militarism. This has led to protests from German editors, who claim that it is more distinctly French than German and point out that the word itself is a French one. To the people of this continent, where the single eyeglass has never been in extensive use, it has never been associated with the Germans any more than with any other Europeans. To most Canadians it suggests the two Chamberlains.

SENTIMENTAL HISTORY

From The Measure
Regretless time, they said, would break
And temper the aloof and frigid Stillness she had; and time would take
The pride too sure, the will too rigid.

The hard gray grinding of each day,
The fine attrition of each second,
Cut and carved and smoothed away
More than they had wished or reckoned,
Leaving the unsuspected bright
Core of her, gay with mocking pledges,
This quick and dazzling lance of light,
This burning blade with perilous edges.

Dr. Frank Crane on "Fathers and Sons"

(Copyright)

THE news of late has been burdened with accounts of family troubles peculiarly distressing. Most domestic quarrels are kept quiet, both parties hating publicity as much as they hate each other, but now and then the conflict, usually because of financial issues that can only be settled in court, becomes public property.

In two recent cases there has been considerable scandal caused by quarrels between father and son, scandal which emphasizes the ever-recurring tragedy of parent and child. They show how we in our blundering way mismanage the delicate problems which destiny thrusts upon us. The child resents the care of the parent as his own strength develops. The parent is wounded at the unappreciative attitude of the child.

The seed of discord thrives and becomes an oak of dislike. Well for both if they can go on their ways and live their separate lives. Then, at least, they can settle into a more or less pacific intolerance.

But where there is money there is possibility of infinite mischief. Children may philosophically resign themselves to the loss of their father, but not to the loss of his money.

In both the cases referred to, a new woman sought in the companionship of a new woman that sympathy and ministrations which, for one reason or another, they found no more in their families.

The late flower of sentiment blooming amid the mists of age may seem charming to disinterested observers, but not to children waiting to get their hands upon the old gentleman's goods and chattels.

Then come the evil days. No bitterness is so bitter as the bitterness of sweet love turned. No two people can hate each other with the wholeheartedness of two that have loved. No misunderstanding is so ocean-wide as that which develops from perfect accord.

If you've a grown son, old man, and if you've an old father, young gentleman, and you're good pals, and like each other, why, you may thank your lucky stars!

After all, one of the most intricate problems for human beings is how to adjust enforced intimacies. We can get along with our friends and acquaintances, because we select them, and if we do not like them we can drop them. But we cannot drop a father, nor a son. They remain as close to you as your ear to your cheek, and a better comparison might be sometimes to say, as a ball to your neck. Few people have the moral courage to go away far enough from their relatives to get along with them. And often circumstances prevent removal.

It is then that we realize that the problem of dealing with those persons whom Fate has decreed shall be always with us is, after all, but a part of the great problem of self-control.

How the Hurons Were Driven From Their Ancient Home

AFTER the terrible onslaught of the Iroquois upon the Huron country in the Spring of 1649 and the consequent demoralization of the Hurons, the Jesuit missionaries at their fortified station of St. Marie, close by the site of the present town of Midland, Ontario, were swiftly forced to the conclusion that their station would have to be abandoned. Within a few days of the departure of the dread Iroquois southward the Huron nation had ceased to exist. Most of the towns had been deserted and burnt, and they should shelter the enemy on his next raid, and bands of fugitives without food or much opportunity of procuring food, roamed North, East, West, even South-west in search of safety. The great mission venture which had endured for more than twenty years and cost untold sacrifice and suffering was at one stroke undone. There had been real promise of a wilderness empire of Christianity under the guidance of the Jesuit fathers. Progress, even in civilization, had indeed been made, but now the flock was scattered.

There was one thing and one thing only to do: the shepherd, faithful to his trust, should follow the largest remnant of that flock. The pallid fort with its stone foundations, its block-houses, its spacious buildings of logs, which had for ten dangerous years been the missionaries' home, their retreat for peace and prayer and inspiration every now and then, and which, rude and comfortless as they were, the priests had come to love—all must be signed to the flames and the spot returned to savagery once more. There was no sentimental delay. It did not take long to pack up the stores, furniture, sacred vessels and the other scanty equipment of the fathers. The superior in charge, Father Ragueneau, decided swiftly on the large island some eighteen miles north of the present city of Collingwood, Ontario, which we call Christian Island but which he called Isle of St. Joseph. This should be the new centre of the faith and of the Huron people. There already were about a thousand men, women and children miserably starving in this their last sanctuary. Thither the fathers and their lay employees moved their stuff on a large, slow raft and in the little boat which they had built. With sinking hearts, no doubt, they gazed back at the smoke rolling over forest and lake from the burning of their recent home.

ON the shore of the bay on the east side of Christian Island, they built a fort, the new St. Marie, stronger than the last, for its walls were all of stone, very thick and twelve feet high. There were impregnable bastions and the whole could be held indelibly against a more experienced and better equipped enemy than the Iroquois. Inside were the chapel, the barracks, the casemates, and a well. The ruins of it all may yet be seen close by the shore.

In the Spring of 1650 the abhorred enemy fell upon the Tobacco Nation, a kindred people, living in the Blue Hills, practically annihilated them and martyred the heroic Father Garnier. They even cast a fierce and purposeful eye at Christian Island. Bands of desperate Hurons recklessly seeking food upon the mainland were utterly wiped out. Famine clutched those who remained upon the island. Their situation was well-nigh hopeless.

The despondent Hurons held a council. They resolved to scatter at last and forever, far North, East, West. Two chiefs appealed pathetically to Father Ragueneau to lead a remnant down to Quebec and shelter them beneath the great French chief, Onontio's guns. Terribly wrenched in spirit the Jesuits did not hesitate. It meant the abandonment of their new fort and of the Huron mission with all its hopes and fears, the heroic labor of twenty years. Quickly they made ready. On June 10, 1650, the fathers and their lay assistants, sixty souls, with three hundred despondent Hurons, started on their long journey through Lake Nipissing and by the Ottawa and St. Lawrence Rivers to Quebec.

At Indian Point, ten miles northwest across the valley of the St. Charles from Quebec, one may see to-day the pitiful remnant of a once proud forest people making basket souvenirs for tourists.

BRITISH COLUMBIA IS THIRD PROVINCE

Manufacturing Establishments and Capital Invested

British Columbia is now the third manufacturing Province in the Dominion of Canada, figures received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce show. There are 2,673 manufacturing establishments, an invested capital amounting to nearly $25,000,000, with over 41,000 employees and with a value of products of approximately $200,000,000.

LAST YEAR'S PACK

Last year's pack of canned fruit and vegetables in British Columbia amounted to 600,000 cases. The jam pack by itself totalled approximately 14,000,000 pounds, or about 7,000 tons. There are a dozen canning factories in the Province. Apart from jams, the principal products packed are tomatoes, pears, apricots, peaches, apples, strawberries, raspberries and other small fruits.

COLLECTIONS PROCEED FOR FLEET WELCOME

Social Appeal is Issued to Help Entertainment of Boys

The collections for the entertainment of the British Special Service Squadron, both through the Mayor's special appeal, and the effort direct by the entertainment committee, is proceeding apace. An announcement with regard to amounts will be made shortly.

If the railway journey through western cities, planned for a limited party, should materialize, an invitation has been received from Moose Jaw to participate in the selected cities which will entertain the visitors.

FOR THE BOYS
The chairman of the boys' entertainment committee is making a special appeal to ladies and gentlemen's clubs, fraternal and benevolent societies who would care to help in the entertainment of the boys of the squadron during their stay in Victoria.

It is estimated that there will be about 500 boys under eighteen years of age on board those vessels. After the departure of H.M. ships Hood, Repulse and H.M.A.S. Adelaide for Vancouver there will be approximately 200 boys in Victoria until July 5.

It is suggested that each ship shall be sponsored by some club or society who will help to make arrangements for picnics and drives for the lads of the ships selected.

The executive committee has appointed Lieut. W. P. McDonagh to care for these lads collectively on Monday, June 10, and he and his committee are working very hard to give them a very pleasant day, which will include drives, luncheon, theatres and tea.

If any club or society cares to discuss the matter and appoint a small committee of two or three the committee will be very pleased to hear their views and give them all assistance available.

tance available. In order that these boys will leave Victoria convinced that the hospitality extended to them in this city was one of the brightest features in the whole world cruise.

Further information may be obtained from Mr. McDonagh, telephone 7357R, or W. Miller Higgs, secretary of the Entertainment Committee Special Service Squadron, Room 5, Metropolitan Building, telephone 1200.

Miss Agnew, of 1322 Rockland Avenue, has kindly given the use of her lawn and house facilities to the committee for picnic, lawn tennis and games, and is also making arrangements for automobile drives for those boys among her friends.

The next meeting of the boys' entertainment committee will be held in the committee room, No. 5, Metropolitan Building, to—evening, at 8 o'clock, when representatives of societies willing to help will be heartily welcomed.

Council Plans to Apportion Succession Duties and Sell Parcels

A draft agreement between the city and the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company outlining the proposed settlement of the question of succession duties and taxes in connection with the property formerly belonging to the Quagliotti estate was approved by the City Council last night.

The object of the agreement is to permit the sale of individual parcels of land in the estate and the apportioning of succession duties to each parcel and will by this means clear up a difficulty which has faced the Council for a considerable period.

The city will endeavor to sell the properties. If an amount equal to or exceeding the total of the taxes and succession duties is received for a parcel, the bonding company will not the amount of the succession duties, but if the price is below the total of the taxes and duties, the city and the bonding company will divide the receipts in the same proportions as the taxes are to the succession duties on that particular parcel. The city has the right to secure for its own use any of the parcels upon payment of the succession duties owing upon them.

MAN WAS KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Murrayville, B.C., June 10.—While walking along the B.C. Electric Railway tracks near Murrayville yesterday morning, Peter Johnston, sixty, was struck on the head by a falling tree and instantly killed. The tree was being felled by loggers, and apparently Johnston did not hear the warning cries until too late. The tree pinned him down, crushing his head.

At an inquest held last evening, at which Dr. A. McVurney presided, a verdict of accidental death was returned by the jury.

"Do you take this woman till death do you part?" demanded the clergyman.

"Don't I get any time off for good behavior?" retorted the bridegroom.

W. E. BALDWIN VISITS VICTORIA

Is President of Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association

For a brief period yesterday the president of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, W. E. Baldwin of Montreal, was in the city. Mr. Baldwin has been on the coast for the past ten days, and in view of the discussions which have taken place about high insurance rates, his opinion has been sought by a number of municipalities on the Lower Mainland.

He has devoted himself to answer the allegations that the fire insurance companies who are united in boards are making large fortunes out of the insured policy holders.

Mr. Baldwin has pointed out that in 1922 British insurance companies doing business in Canada paid out in fire losses and general upkeep and taxes $111.45 for every $100 of premiums collected; and foreign companies $102.40 for every $100 of premiums collected. Canada paid out on the same basis $102.40 for every $100 of premiums collected, and Canadian companies $105.87 for each $100 taken in premiums. Mr. Baldwin showed that only by their earnings of interest on surplus assets could the companies carry on.

The average rate in Canada in 1922 was 1.06, as against 1.09 in 1916 although in an interval every item of cost of doing business had been increased, according to the Government blue book on insurance companies.

SAYS PROVINCIALS PARTY INCAPABLE

Dr. S. F. Tolmie Points to Instances of Previous Mismanagement

Hon. Simon F. Tolmie, Victoria's representative in the Federal Parliament last night spoke on behalf of the Conservative candidates in Saanich, for the Provincial legislative body, at St. G. Coventry, at St. Mark's Hall. Dr. Tolmie's address dealt with Dominion matters as a whole, rather than with provincial matters in particular, although he had frequent references to the Liberal Government's policy in this province and the campaign measures adopted by the party generally.

Dr. Tolmie referred to what he termed the "enormous expenditures" of the present administration, and the money spent by the Government in the re-establishment of ex-soldiers on the land in British Columbia. The Government had spent huge sums in land investigation at Merville and various other portions of the country, where they encouraged soldiers to settle, he said. At Merville, after the land had been appraised the value of the land, he continued, and when the settlers had already begun their work on the ill-fated tract was assessed at one quarter of the Government's valuation.

Similar instances of the Government's alleged thoughtless and headless expenditures, were cited by the speaker.

"I want to be fair to the Provincial Party," said the speaker, "for they are, I believe, actually acting with our best interests at heart. But," he continued with added animation, "the past experience of Canadians with third parties everywhere has been such that we do not wish to see them in power again." He cited examples of the third party rule in various provinces, particularly in Ontario, where operating expenses were raised by them from approximately $19,000,000 to about $38,000,000, and the debt was increased, in the province, from $24,000,000 to $37,000,000, in round figures.

History would but repeat itself if the Provincial Party were to come into power in British Columbia," he asserted.

PARTY WEAKNESS

He pointed out the reason for the weakness of third parties everywhere, for they were largely made up of the "left-overs" after the choice of government had been made from the already existing parties. Hence, the third parties, were composed, in the main, of the weaker, less competent element of politicians. Some of these as had been proved by such legislation as seen in Ontario, were not only incapable but corrupt.

T. G. Coventry also addressed the meeting, crediting Mrs. Coventry, his wife, with having supplied him originally with his maternity benefit plank in his campaign platform. This, he said, the leaders of the Conservative party, and especially Mr. Bowser, looked upon with favor. He alluded himself at all times to fight for these maternity benefits, saying that one Canadian born baby was better than "half a dozen children of immigrant bunks."

VICTORIA PIGEONS RACE FROM SALEM

Results of Seventh Race Over
Airline of 250 Miles

The Victoria Racing Pigeon Club held its seventh race from Salem, Oregon, June 8, an airline of 250 miles. The birds were liberated at 5:30 a.m. The weather conditions were: southwest wind, cloudy and forest fires. The following are the results: J. Denoni, flying time, 11:50:37; R. Dickinson, 11:50:17; F. Bosson, 12:05:5; J. Denoni, 12:07:40; F. Mellor, 12:11:30; J. W. Bland, 12:21:40; 12:22:25; 12:22:25; Dickinson, 12:34:15; H. Saville, 12:36:53; J. Stewart, 12:37:21; R. R. Tait, 12:31:27; T. Crossman, 12:39:23.

Leading for averages in Colonist Challenge Cup: Tait, Saville, Denoni. Special prizes were won as follows: J. Denoni, Wilson Bros. prize for first bird; R. Dickinson—McKay prize for second bird; F. Bosson—Hill's Corner Grocery prize for third bird. J. Denoni won the pool.

The next race will be held from Eugene, Ore., Sunday, June 15, an airline of 310 miles. This race is open to the island.

RAIN IMPROVES FIRE SITUATION IN INTERIOR

But Conditions Are Still Serious in B.C. Woods, Officials Report

Forest fire conditions in British Columbia have been greatly improved during the last week by rains which fell in many parts of the Province. The situation is still regarded as extremely serious, however, according to the weekly fire bulletin of the forestry service, issued to-day.

So far 715 fire outbreaks have been reported this year as against only 327 at this time last year. These figures indicate how much more hazardous conditions are now than they were a year ago.

Vancouver district, including Vancouver Island, has suffered most for with 153 outbreaks. Nelson comes next with 149, while Cranbrook reports 89 fires, Prince George 87, Prince Rupert 82, Kamloops 80, Cariboo 76 and Vernon 43.

"Light showers during the past week gave a much needed respite in situation but the conditions indicated for the coming week are hot and dry and tend to emphasize the great need for care with fire in the woods," says the fire bulletin.

"The litter on the forest floor is still dry, and in such an Indian summer condition that after a few hours hot, dry weather a spark is soon converted into a conflagration. Forest fires are preventable; they do not start of their own accord, and the public is therefore asked to protect their own property, for that is finally whose property is destroyed when forest fires rage through the country."

CONSERVATIVES WARN AGAINST SPLIT VOTING

Ballots For Provincials May Put Oliver Back, They Fear

"If you vote a split ticket on June 20 and include any of the Provincial Party candidates, you are running the danger of returning the Oliver administration to power."

This frank warning, voiced by H. D. Twigg, Conservative candidate, at a meeting in George Jay School last night, summed up the fears of the opposition standard-bearers that the third party will cut seriously into their vote.

The Provincial Party, said Mr. Twigg, had been formed as a result of the demand of the public for economic and sane government. He sympathized with that ambition, he said, but he differed with the provincials on the method of reforming the administration. The cheapest and most efficient way to obtain good government, he declared, was through the use of the two-party system and the return of the Conservative Party to power. The three-party system, he asserted, had led to confusion in provincial politics as the third party actually was able to dominate the House of Commons, British Columbia, he warned, faced a similar danger if the electors did not vote a straight ticket.

Major Gus Lyons assailed the Times editorials on provincial finances. He asserted that Government supporters, in compiling the net debt of British Columbia, subtracted from the gross debt everything but the Parliament Building steps.

Joshua Hinchliffe renewed his attack on the Government for its administration of the Mothers' Pension Act—an excellent measure the handling of which had been a miserable failure.

Regulations passed to govern the administration of the Act, he asserted, had caused untold suffering to deserving mothers. These regulations provided that no woman would be entitled to relief unless she had been deserted by her husband for two years before the date of her application for a pension. They also deprived a woman of relief if her husband were an inmate of a prison, unless the man had been or more years to serve following the date of the passage of the Act.

This Article Will Interest Every Mother!

Toronto, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription" is the greatest I have ever known. I am a mother of six children and I suffered greatly each time except the last one, when I was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and I got along just fine. Felt well and strong and had a grand baby, that has always been very healthy. I regained my strength very quickly afterward. I was so thankful to have been advised of this medicine, it gave me such wonderful help."

You Too Can Know the Joy Of Wash-Day Freedom

Wash day is just as unnecessary in your home as spinning, weaving, or any of the other old-fashioned home toils of our grandmothers' time. The necessity of confining wash day laborers is a thing of the past. To-day the modern woman, the healthy woman, the happy woman knows the joy of wash day freedom. It gives her more time for pleasure and for her family. This wash day freedom is offered to every woman in Victoria, and at a cost much less than you anticipate.

Dr. F. G. Banting Joins Benedicts

Miss Marion Robertson, daughter of Dr. William Robertson, of Elora, whose marriage to Dr. Frederick G. Banting, world-famous discoverer of insulin, took place last week at the home of the bride's uncle, Dr. James Caven, 38 Bloor Street East. Rev. Capt. George MacDonald, of Ottawa, and Rev. James Little, D.D., conducted the service.

WILL URGE WOMEN TO VOTE AGAINST BEER PLEBISCITE

Local Council Opposed to Beer Sale; Educational Recommendations

Every one of the fifty-four affiliated societies of the Local Council of Women will be urged to request its members to vote against the coming plebiscite for the sale of beer by the glass.

This decision was unanimously reached yesterday afternoon at the council's monthly meeting after Mrs. Frank Andrews introduced the matter. Mrs. Andrews declared that the new situation created by the introduction of the sale of beer by the glass would prove far worse than in the old days when no women or minors were allowed in the bars whereas under the proposed system of so-called licensed premises anyone could purchase beer.

Recommendations were brought forward by the education committee of the council through Mrs. Clark, the convenor, for presentation to the commission appointed to make a provincial survey of educational matters.

These recommendations were as follows: (a) That in every high school of any importance or in each city where such a high school exists there be appointed a vocational expert whose duty it will be to study the needs and circumstances of the children entering the school in order to direct them in the way best suited to their capacities and needs, and thus eliminate a great deal of wasted time and energy on the part of both teacher and child.

(b) That the Government be asked to establish in connection with the Department of Education or some existing department, a bureau of information, this to be confined not only to British Columbia but also to the Empire and to foreign countries.

The law of supply and demand would be efficiently done by the course of the educational department for it would show which of the products were marketable and would be a guide to the most necessary requirements of the curriculum. It would also be a means of testing the value of the investment in education.

HOME ECONOMICS

(c) That the Home Economics course be extended to the high school. In order that this may be efficiently done the course of high school work should be extended from three to four years, that the first two years be made as full and practical as possible in order to induce all girls to take it, but that the last two years be of specialization in some form of the work such as decorative art, designing and nursing. In order to do this some options must be given and credits for all work done in the Home Economics course.

POTTERY SHOWN

A suggestion was made that the National Council be asked to hold its annual meeting in Victoria in 1925 that both no voting conducted in this city since 1900. The opinion of the affiliated societies will be sought upon this question which will be again dealt with at the next meeting in September.

Miss Lothian gave an interesting talk on the making of pottery from B.C. clay showing some charming examples of the potter's craft made by students at the Summer school and at the night classes at the High School.

Salvation Army Bazaar.—The ladies of the Salvation Army Home League will hold a sale of home-cooking and needlework on Thursday afternoon in the Broad Street Citadel. Afternoon tea will be served, and in the evening the Citadel band will assist in rendering an interesting programme. P. Hutchart for her hospitality, to Miss Agnew and Miss Carr for generous donations of flowers and to Mr. Willis of the Willis Piano Company for the free loan of a piano.

Before leaving the members collectively and individually expressed their appreciation of Mrs. Longstaff's hospitality.

Woman M.P. on 'How To Be Independent Though Married'

Ottawa, June 10.—One of the problems to be solved in future is as to how woman can be economically independent, though married, Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P., stated in an address before the local Rotary Club here yesterday. Miss McPhail laughingly added that she had "up to now refused to tackle this problem."

She was emphatic in her disgust of mothers, daughters and sons loafing and having a good time and leaving father to work away in his office to provide the wherewithal. Miss McPhail concluded by stating that women should take a share in the world's problems.

"Humanity is neither male or female," she said. "It is both."

STUDENTS' RECITAL

Pupils of Mrs. Boulton Gave Creditable Programme Last Night

A number of her senior pupils gave an interesting pianoforte recital at the studio of Mrs. Boulton, A.R.C.M., Hilda Street, last evening when the outstanding feature of the informal programme was the playing of Miss Dorothy Greenwood, silver medalist in last year's associated board examinations, and Miss Vivian Moggey. Miss Greenwood and Miss Moggey played the difficult G. Minor Concerto (Mendelssohn) and Miss Moggey also played the Greig A. Minor Concerto with Mrs. Boulton. Other pupils assisting were May Lewis, Kathleen and Bertha Wootton, Ethel Mackenzie, Barbara Pelton, Mrs. Willard, Mrs. Mitchell and Norman McConnell. Wellesley Wood and Fred Greaves, the last three playing a trio. Theory prizes were presented to Dorcen Cooper, Ethel Mackenzie and Norman McConnell.

Vive la Chocolate!

PARIS recently celebrated the 400th anniversary of the introduction of chocolate into Europe. Paris does things like that. Paris loves its "chocolate" and remembers that early prejudice almost succeeded in denying this delicious confection to the French people.

All that France has discovered in 400 years as to the use of chocolate in candy form has been learned by Moir's candy makers. Her succulent flaming red cherries, ripened in the south and providing perhaps the most delicious of all chocolate centres, like a ruby afloat in a nectar-filled globe—is one of the many things Moir import from France.

In Canada Moirs have been identified for many years with the blending and combining of the world's finest chocolate with all the high quality materials that may be gathered in for candy-making from all corners of the world.

"Beau Brummel" is Screen Attraction
in Dominion Film

"Beau Brummel," whose week's engagement began yesterday at the Dominion Theatre, were frankly captivated by the performance of this one and only Barrymore in this adaptation of the Clyde Fitch play, swept off our feet as we followed the thrilling romance of Beau Brummel, king of the dandies.

England in the period lives vividly, unforgettably, powerfully. You see the beaux and wits as they pass snuff boxes, indulge in their intrigue and gallantries, the high scale of their living, the brilliance and verve of their bon mots, the charm of it all. But beside the charm there is the pulsing drama, the sort that keeps you tense and started, makes you live with the protagonists of the story.

Dorothy Farnum, the adapter, did a wonderful piece of work in this Warner Brothers' classic of the screen. But then—so did everybody, from the star to the brilliant supporting cast, some of whom are Mary Astor, Carmel Myers, Irene Rich, Alice B. Francis, Willard Louis, Richard Tucker, Andre de Beranger.

All in all, the combination of play,

Wives Past and Present Haunt
John Emerson

"Why Men Leave Home," a First National picture, produced by John M. Stahl, which is now the feature at the Royal Theatre, contains one of the most unusual and unique situations ever conceived in the brain of a writer. The credit for it goes to Avery Hopwood, the author of this play, which ran for more than a year on Broadway.

John Emerson, the leading character in the play, finds himself quarantined with his divorced wife in his mother-in-law's home a few hours after his remarriage to his stenographer. His former wife is unaware of the fact that he has wed again, and pleads with him to "try it again." Emerson is willing enough, but the fact that he has a wife presents an insurmountable obstacle. As he is trying to figure a way out of the embarrassing situation, his bride bursts into the house, having eluded the guards stationed by the health authorities. That is the starting point of a series of humorous episodes. John Emerson finds himself quarantined for an indefinite time in a house with his wife and ex-wife, hating the former and loving the latter. The outcome of this strange situation furnishes many laughs.

Lewis Stone and Helene Chadwick are cast as the husband and wife, while Alma Bennett plays the part of the stenographer who breaks up the home. Others in the cast are Mary Carr, William V. Mong, Hedda Hopper, Sidney Bracy, Lila Leslie, E. H. Calvert and Howard Truesdell.

Dual Likeness Leads to Amusing Situations in Film

William Russell will be seen in a story of small-town politics and big-town romance at the Playhouse Theatre, when the William Fox production "Mixed Faces," will be the featured picture.

Renée Adoree, the dainty and beautiful little leading woman, who won fame in Paris before coming to this country, plays opposite the star. Others in the cast include Harvey Clark, who has been appearing in pictures since the old biograph days, Elizabeth Garrison and Eileen Manning.

The theme of the story is based on the remembrance of Jimmy Gallop and Judge Grainger, who is running for mayor of a small town on the "reform ticket." The trouble that ensues when the judge's political opponents hire Jimmy to pose as the mayoralty candidate and to address a mass meeting of the latter's constituents, all reform workers, creates an extraordinary situation. Jimmy addresses the meeting and comes out for an open town, which throws the gathering into an uproar.

But what follows that, when the judge's fiancée mistakes the likable Jimmy for her husband-to-be, and falls in love with him, "Mixed Faces" will give picture patrons a new type of amusement.

Violence Difficult to Screen Unless Emotion is Actual

Getting a group of deep sea sailors sufficiently angry to register emotional violence for a motion picture camera almost ended disastrously for Victor Fleming during the production of the Paramount picture, "Code of the Sea," playing at the Capitol Theatre.

Fleming was filming a scene aboard a lightship in which a crew of sailors were planning to mutiny. Somehow the tars couldn't act like truly villains.

"Act, you claim-diggers!" yelled Fleming.

The sailors did. One by one they began to scowl surlily, baring their teeth, fighting mad. The camera clicked away, and the scene was finished.

But the ocean rovers were not, Fleming, with malice aforethought and to get results, had insulted them by dubbing them claim-diggers. To a mariner a claim-digger is a cowardly person, who is afraid to leave the shore and go to sea.

Fleming, together with Rod La Rocque and Jacqueline Logan, featured in "Code of the Sea," spent ten minutes in mollifying the irate crew. Finally the men saw the joke. And all was well.

Jazz Band Followed Screen Actors Instead of Reading Music

During the filming of the big cafe scenes in "Thundering Dawn," Harry Garson's spectacular Universal-Jewel of Java, to be screened at the Columbia Theatre to-day, the orchestra rose and followed the whirling, dancing players, playing like mad and watching the spectacle at the same time.

Garson, directing the big scenes, insisted on a full orchestra, and obtained the services of Vincent Rose and Jackie Taylor and their band to furnish syncopated inspiration for the tropical revelry.

The musicians weren't "hard-boiled" to pictures—they are a dance orchestra, and not a studio inspirational aggregation. They got interested. When the crowd whirled back and forth about the great cafe rose and followed to see the better, Ernie Anderson, wearing his band white, dodging amid the dancers, Professor Moore made his razz, phone wall as he enthusiastically followed the crowd; Buster Johnson shoved off his trombone, and hoofed nimbly after the actors, and only Rose at the piano, Albert Jeager at the bass viol, and J. V. Van Cott at the drum "stayed put." Their apparatus was immovable.

"Thundering Dawn" is a spectacular story laid in Java, with its variegated population. The big cast is headed by J. Warren Kerrigan and Anna Q. Nilsson, and includes Winifred Bryson, Tom Santschi, Edward Burns, Winter Hall, Richard Kwan and a host of players of every type.

Famous Dark-skinned Comedy Company Appear With Pantages Production

Vancouver streets were thronged last week when the La France Brothers mounted a platform at the top of a high building and there performed a series of amazing feats while standing on their heads. But a stunt like that is everyday work with the La France boys, and those who witness their act at Pantages this week will understand the reason.

The La France Brothers are marvelous when it comes to doing things while standing on their heads. There is a real novelty act which opens a programme of unusual interest, featured by little Ruth Mix and her company, and Sheffell's colored comedy players.

Ruth Mix, you guessed it, is a very near relative of Tom Mix, hero of a hundred Western film dramas. In fact, she is his daughter. She appears with her own company in an engaging little piece known as "Heart Strings." Then there is the act of Devine and Gould and of Clifford & Marion, both clever comedy creations.

There will be a night show to-day commencing at 9 o'clock, while to-morrow and Thursday there will be a matinee and two evening shows as well at 7 and 9 respectively.

Popular Dance Orchestra Plays
at Capitol To-night

Tuesday, popular music night at the Capitol, has now become thoroughly established at the popular Yates Street theatre and that they are meeting with unprecedented favor by Capitol patrons is evinced by the capacity houses that prevail on these particular evenings. George Ozard and his dance orchestra are always to be depended upon to provide a tuneless and up-to-date programme of captivating dance numbers and numerous encores are always demanded by Capitol audiences. Their programme to-night will include the following numbers: "Oh, Gee, Oh, Gosh, Oh, Golly, I'm in Love," "Just One More Kiss," "Song of Love," and "The Hoodoo Man."

The Capitol picture programme this week is an exceptionally good one. "Code of the Sea" is a superb feature, full of action and many thrilling sea scenes in which Rod La Roche and Jacqueline Logan sustain the leading roles.

"It Pays to Advertise" is Fine Comedy at Playhouse Theatre

"It Pays to Advertise," which is this week's presentation at the Playhouse Theatre, is a remarkably fine comedy with some of the fastest laughs that one would wish for. Will Marshall as Rodney Martin, the lazy son of a millionaire soap manufacturer, taken by Ernie Petz, gets the necessary incentive to go to work. He decides to manufacture soap and buck his Dad, and is urged to do this by a college friend, a high pressure advertising man just at the moment broke. This part is excellently taken by Reginald Hincks. Mary Grayson, a role taken by Peggy Lewis, is to be secretary and partner, and all plans are running smoothly when the trio realize they have forgotten a small detail—capital. The difficulty is partially overcome and the great game of advertising "It Pays to Advertise" commences. In the finish poor old man Martin is, by various means, compelled to buy out the new company for a million dollars. The action in this play is right in line with the present day call for speed and screamingly funny dialogue.

Close Matches In Willows Handicap Tennis Tournament

Mixed Doubles Provide Interesting Fixtures; English Beat Brand In Three Sets

Considerable progress was made in the handicap tournament being staged by the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club at the Willows courts yesterday afternoon. The play in the majority of the matches was very close, most of the mixed doubles going into three sets.

In the men's singles English had a job on his hands to defeat Brand. After dropping the first set he won the next two. Mrs. Mogg and Miss Leeming were not extended in their games in the ladies' singles.

The results were as follows:

Men's Singles
R. Diespecker, plus 15, defeated E. H. Russell, plus 216, 6-2, 6-2; D. M. Gordon, minus 10, defeated T. Langdon, minus 216, 6-2, 6-3; H. O. English, plus 216, defeated A. C. Brand, minus 15, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Ladies' Singles

Scenes of Davis Cup Matches Are Announced in N.Y.

Teams From Various Nations in American Zone Will Place in Four Cities

New York, June 10.—The various American zone Davis cup tennis teams in the United States will be played at the Crescent A. C. Brooklyn; the Baltimore Country Club; the Philadelphia Country Club; the Providence, R. I., and the Longwood C. C. Boston, the Davis cup committee announced to-day.

Australia will face China at the Crescent A. C. July 31; August 1 and 2. The winner of this match will meet Mexico, which drew a bye at the Baltimore Country Club, August 7, 8 and 9.

CANADIAN GAMES
The final round of American zone play will be decided at Agawam Hunt between the survivor of the Baltimore match and the team which comes out of two matches at Ottawa and Montreal in which Japan, which drew a bye, will face the victor of a Cuba-Canada struggle.

The Longwood Cricket Club will be the scene of the inter-zone, September 4, 5 and 6. At the Germantown C. C. in Philadelphia on September 11, 12 and 13, the United States will defend the Davis cup against the challengers which survive the Longwood duel.

Canadian Athletes At Montreal Given Stiff Workouts
Montreal, June 10.—A workout every morning before breakfast with a further period of training around 10 o'clock and again at 2 o'clock will comprise the activities of the athletes assembled here for the Canadian Olympic trials.

Exception is made for the fencers, who are in good shape with the exception of E. Rae, Ontario, 10,000-metre champion, who has had to suspend work owing to sore feet.

Thoroughbreds Are Arriving in Large Numbers For Races

Horses are arriving in large numbers now for the race meet which is to open at the Colwood track one week from next Wednesday afternoon. Over 100 head of horses are stable here now and it is expected that between two and three hundred thoroughbreds will be here to face the barrier at Colwood.

The type of horse reported to be high and some good races should be witnessed.

Work is rapidly nearing completion at the new track, which will be one of the finest in the country.

Red Sox Hurdle Yanks And Again Take Top Berth

White Sox Powerless Before Ehmeke; Browns Too Good For Yankees

Giant's Win on Rookie's Timely Swat; Cubs Drop Close One to Brooklyn

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Chicago, June 10.—Boston climbed into first place yesterday, defeating the White Sox, 5 to 1, while St. Louis won from the Yankees. Ehmeke kept the four Sox blows scattered, being given good support. Four hits, two sacrifices and a fielder's choice in the first inning gave the Red Sox a three-run lead.

YANKEE BUMPED AGAIN
St. Louis, June 10.—The Browns made it three in a row over the New York Yankees in winning again yesterday, 5 to 2. Five errors behind them, the Yankees kept the game close, but the Browns' timely hitting proved too much for them.

GAMES FOR TO-DAY
Men's Singles—4.00, J. R. Kingham vs. H. B. Little, 4.30, F. G. Conner vs. C. S. Allan; 5.30, J. S. Proctor vs. J. Cunningham.

Ladies' Singles—3.00, Miss Austen-Leigh vs. Mrs. Denison, 3.30, Miss Farrar vs. Mrs. F. Musgrave; 5.30, Mrs. Dennison vs. Miss Blankenbach; 6.00, Miss M. Campbell vs. Miss D. Locke.

Mixed Doubles—5.15, Mrs. Rickaby and P. A. Jackson vs. Major and Mrs. Englewood; 5.15, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman vs. Miss McCulloch and E. Edgell; 5.30, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Mogg vs. Mrs. Marsden and E. Easum.

Ladies' Doubles—3.30, Miss Archibald and Miss Gordon vs. Mrs. Mathews and Mrs. Denison; 5.15, Mrs. Taylor and Miss Lawson vs. Miss Davis and Miss M. Miller.

Men's Doubles—5.30, A. R. and C. Cadow vs. R. B. and Russell; 5.30, Dennison and Cartwright vs. W. Merston and Hodgins.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Brooklyn, June 10.—Kaufman walked Fournier with the bases full in the ninth, forcing home the tying run, and Stove followed with a single which gave Brooklyn a 4 to 3 victory over Chicago.

RECRUIT WINS FOR GIANTS
New York, June 10.—A three-base hit with the bases full by Lew Wilton, a recruit outfielder, enabled New York to make it two straight from Pittsburgh yesterday, 6 to 4.

PHILADELPHIA HITS SENATORS
Cleveland, June 10.—Cleveland bunched six of their eight hits off Morridge in the fourth and fifth innings for six runs yesterday and defeated Washington 6 to 1. Ellerbe, recently obtained from St. Louis, played his first game for Cleveland and made two hits and a sacrifice.

Cleveland's Fairest Fairies Who Will Play Here on Thursday Night

The "Favorite Knits" senior girls' basketball team of Cleveland, Ohio, ex-champions of the world, who have only lost four games in six years, and who, for four years, held the record of not losing a single game, will arrive in Victoria on Thursday afternoon and will meet the "Fidels" girls, B.C. champions, in the first international girls' basketball game ever played here.

Early in 1923 the Cleveland team defeated the "Mason Tire" girls' team at the Cleveland public auditorium before a crowd of 18,000 basketball enthusiasts.

The "Favorite Knits" have been intact for six years, two years ago they played all over the eastern part of the United States and won all their games. Last year they brought them to Cleveland from Pittsburg and Springfield, Mass. The average weight of the team is 125 pounds and the lineup will be as follows:

Forwards, Mary Haas and Nellie Kyr; centre, Elizabeth Wagemaker; guards, Kathryn McAleer (captain) and Bessie Stepnicka; spares, Lucille Stoil and Loretta Sommers.

Coach Julius Kemeny says every one of the players has played under his direction in the Clark Municipal gymnasium since they were girls of eight and ten years old and that there is not a finer lot of young ladies in the country.

The "Favorite Knits" are making a tour of the Pacific coast and will be in Victoria for a week. They were entertained at Jasper Park en route. At Vancouver they will meet an all-star aggregation chosen from all the leading girls' teams in the district. Thursday night's game here will be played at the High School gymnasium and a great crowd is expected.

Vancouver Water Star Easy Winner In Winnipeg Race
"Chuck" Hills Wins Dominion Breast Stroke Title; Bailey Placed in Quarter

Winnipeg, June 10.—Competing for the highest honors in the field of Dominion aquatics, Montreal swimmers carried off the greatest number of events at the opening of the official Olympic trials and Canadian championships held under the auspices of the Manitoba branch of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association here last night.

George Vernot, of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, who represented Canada in the 1920 Olympiad, had a comparatively easy workout in holding his title in the 440-yard event. His clubmate, Clayton Bourne, in capturing the 100-yard free style Canadian championship, uncovered a fine burst of speed.

Through the splendid performance of "Chuck" Hills the Canadian champion for the 220-yard breast stroke will rest in Vancouver. The British Columbia speedster assumed an early lead which he maintained throughout, finishing the distance fifty yards ahead of the field.

HAZEL STILL QUEEN
Hazel Kessler, of Winnipeg retained her crown over the 100-yard stretch for ladies. An unfortunate incident, which resulted in Miss Kessler being fouled in this event, necessitated a second test between Ursula Morris and the Dominion champion. The race was one of the closest of the night, Miss Kessler winning by inches.

Owing to the comparatively poor time made in the ladies' race officials indicated that there was little possibility of a woman representative being included in the Canadian Olympic team.

The inclusion of Vernot and Bourne is regarded as a foregone conclusion, while the selection committee is desirous of choosing two other candidates, their recommendations to the Dominion Olympic committee will not be announced until the close of trials to-night.

Summary:
100 yards, free style, men, Canadian championship—1, Clayton Bourne, Montreal; 2, Paul Gravel, Montreal; 3, N. G. Brooks, Winnipeg. Time, 59.4 seconds.
220 yards, breast stroke, Canadian championship—1, C. Hills, Vancouver; 2, Arthur Sidwell, Winnipeg; 3, V. Bestman, Winnipeg. Time, 3:20.3.
100 yards, ladies, Canadian championship—1, Hazel Kessler, Winnipeg; 2, Ursula Morris, Winnipeg; 3, Gladys Kessler, Winnipeg. Time, 1:12.5.

REFUSES OFFER
New York, June 10.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, to-day turned down an offer of $150,000 for a title fight at the Queensboro Stadium with Bartley Madden, who was defeated but stayed the limit of fifteen rounds with Harry Wills last night.

LACROSSE PRACTICE
A practice of the Mann Cup lacrosse players will be held to-night at the Work Point grounds at 8.30 o'clock. All players are requested to turn out.

Football Delegates Will Consider Much Business To-night

All delegates to the Lower Island Football Association are requested to attend a meeting to be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Veterans' of France club-rooms.

Important business is to be considered including a discussion on the amendments to the B.C.F.A. constitution. The case of John Cummings will also be heard by the board.

Aspirations Of Wills Sustain a Severe Setback

Negro Battler Fails to Halt His Trial Horse in Fifteen Hot Rounds

Madden, Rugged Irishman, Badly Punished But Manages to Stay Limit

New York, June 10.—The championship aspirations of Harry Wills sustained a setback last night when the giant negro heavyweight failed to knock out Bartley Madden, rugged West Irishman, in a fifteen round match at the Queensboro Stadium.

Wills won the judges' decision and gained it by a decisive margin, but Madden, fighting one of the most courageous battles seen in a Metropolitan ring in years, stood up under the negro's most terrific attacks.

Wills employed his great advantage in reach and twenty-eight pounds margin in weight to good advantage, battering Madden all over the ring, opened nasty cuts about his opponent's mouth and eyes, and the hardest punches of the negro failed to more than shake the tough West Sider.

Fighting the last four rounds with a stream of blood oozing from his vision, Madden stood up under a terrific bombardment and at times brought the crowd of 20,000 to its feet in recognition of his gameness by lashing out in a counter-offensive.

Wills had Madden on the verge of a knockout at least twice, once in the fifth round, when a shower of blows to the head sent the Irishman reeling to a corner and again in the twelfth when it seemed that Madden must go down under the attack that sent blood gushing from the cuts about his face.

WILLS USES REACH
Round 1—Wills chased Madden into a corner twice, landing both hands to the head without a return. Madden covered cautiously, but took up upon the attack of the head. Madden landed a right to the jaw. Wills punished his opponent about the body at close range. Wills used his long reach and kept the Irishman from backing away from his drives to the head and body at the close of the round.

Round 2—Wills pummeled Madden about the body as they wrestled along the ropes. Madden landed a long right to the head and then clinched. Wills battered his opponent about the ribs with powerful rights. They exchanged light blows to the head. Wills was warned for holding as they broke from a clinch. Madden was warned for persistently avoiding Wills' sweeping right at the going.

Round 3—Wills wormed Madden into a corner and the more determined offensive. Madden landed a short right uppercut but took four rights to the jaw in return. Madden landed a right to the head. They clinched at the end of the time. Madden landed a right to the jaw. Wills' left found Wills' jaw twice. They were locked in a clinch at the end of the round.

MADDEN ADOPTS PUNISHMENT
Round 4—Wills drove Madden to the ropes with a fierce attack to the head. Wills took a long left to the ear, but complained to the referee that Madden was prolonging the clinch. Madden took a stiff jolt to the head and absorbed more punishment at close range. Madden showed some aggressiveness and brought down Wills' mouth with a right hook just before the going ended the round.

Round 5—Madden backed away from Wills' right, but was mauled about the body as they rushed together. Wills took a left hook to the head but rushed his man to the ropes with both fists swinging to the head. Wills battered Madden about the jaw and the Irishman seemed groggy. Wills missed a vicious right at the close of the round.

Round 6—Wills drove his right to the body but Madden covered quickly. Wills rushed in and sank both fists into his opponent's ribs. Madden stabbed Wills with his left to the jaw but sought the clinches frequently. Wills punished Madden about the body but Bartley ducked most of the punches. Wills' shoulder was attacked with an attack to the head, but the Irishman stuck to his guns.

OWENS BREAKS RIB
Chris Owens, captain of the Veterans' Football Club, sustained a fractured rib in the game with the Vancouver Elks in Vancouver on Saturday. The Victoria boys were meted out some stiff treatment and yesterday Chris went to the doctor's and found that one of the "hoops" has been parted.

TREMAINE GAINS VERDICT
Columbus, Ohio, June 10.—Carl Tremaine, Cleveland bantamweight, last night won the judges' decision over Eddie O'Dowd, Columbus, in twelve rounds.

STAYED ON HIS FEET
Round 15—They came together and Wills punished his opponent about the head and ribs. Madden about his left to the body and took a left to the head in return. Wills smashed both hands to the head and jarred Madden with a left to the body but took a left to the jaw as they broke from a clinch. Madden absorbed terrific punishment at close quarters, but was on his feet at the bell.

LABOR CANDIDATES ADDRESS ELECTORS

Hawthornthwaite Back in Labor Fold After Sojourn in Wilderness

Strong Appeal by Mrs.
Graves; W. E. Peirce Also Speaks

"The reason I left the Labor Party was that I disagreed with my associates on an important question," J. H. Hawthornthwaite, a Labor candidate for Victoria said, in addressing a large audience in the interests of the Canadian Labor Party candidates last evening at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. Whether I was right or wrong the fight was on, and accordingly I lost my position, a strong and enviable one, in the Labor movement. The movement has again received me with open arms. I hope I shall never have reason to leave the ranks again," he concluded.

Mr. Hawthornthwaite advocated the introduction of British capital. Mrs. Graves spoke on the migration to California, and W. E. Peirce on the re-construction of society. R. W. Nunn presided.

MRS. GRAVES
Mrs. H. W. Graves, who was well received, introduced herself by saying that she had been told "she had got into very bad company," if that were so then some of the candidates were in worse company. Mrs. Graves referred to the present position of British Labor Party, and said a party which was welcomed at the British Court would not contaminate her. She was glad to throw in her lot with the people who worked with both brains and hands.

She alluded to the duties of the city women to their fellow women in the back settlements, to make motherhood easier. She spoke of the necessity of a medical board in every city to assist the sick.

What an experience it was when the sons and daughters of their own citizens, educated at the public expense, had to emigrate when the country was bringing in people from the Hebrides! Canada was a sieve. She spoke of the depressing reports of the meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association last week and the financial situation in British Columbia, and in this city. She drew a dark picture of the numerous empty houses in the city under the pressure of taxation and economic problems in the face of undeveloped resources.

Did they realize to the full the precise effect of the enrichment of the United States by the emigration? "Are our politics without vision," she asked. They had lost the Forestry fire fighting service for this district, the Workmen's Compensation Board, the Mothers' Pensions Board, and other Governmental agencies and meanwhile the Government had reduced the payment of the workmen and at the same time increased the salaries of the ministers and members of the Legislature. Women particularly were aggrieved at the extravagance of the Government, resulting in financial depression. She turned to discuss the serious situation of unemployment. She said the fear of losing their jobs had made the people cowards (hear hear). She attacked the export of logs from the Province, and the failure to develop the hinterland of the West Coast. British Columbia was spending $24,000,000 a year for liquor, too much for a province of half a million people. She asserted: "No individual ever drank himself into wealth, no country can drink itself into prosperity."

INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS
Mr. Hawthornthwaite was well received. He examined the relation of the worker in the British Empire and said the emigration from Canada had been due to the fact that the workers had not access to their natural resources.

He alluded to the Rhodesian settlement of the northern section of British South Africa, comparing its wide scope "for selfish ends" with the unselfish development of their resources, and particularly in British Columbia. As long as the system of production continued there would be unemployment and enforced migration, he asserted.

He would summarize his policy as one to provide for 100,000 skilled workers. He declared that his plan would pay off the Provincial debt in two or three years.

The speaker pointed to the extensive migration from British Columbia in three years, and asked what was the cause? The natural resources were tremendous, but they were not yet developed, so those who were now employed were uncertain of their engagement.

There were so many civil servants in the Parliament Buildings that if a cannon ball were shot down the corridors it might not hurt scarcely a customer, but the mortality among the civil servants would be too terrible to contemplate. The remedy was not as the Conservatives argued, to dismiss those men and cast them on an overloaded labor market, but to find them more to do. (Applause.)

Examining the natural resources of Vancouver Island, he urged strongly hydro-electric development, particularly at Campbell River and other points.

The necessity for developing the resources at the north end of Vancouver Island was next emphasized, and particularly in its fisheries. The ideal people for that industry were not Japanese, but the Scottish crofters. He had taken the matter up with the late Duke of Sutherland, and the scheme was going through when the war came on and the plan collapsed, Mr. Hawthornthwaite said.

TEXTILES
In the textile industry they had examples, in the cotton and woolen industries of Lancashire and the West Riding of identical climatic conditions as those of Vancouver Island. Great textile factories had been established in India and China, but they lacked the climate, which this Island had.

Eventually the industrial centres of the world would gravitate to the hydro-electric supplies, the speaker pointed out.

Mr. Hawthornthwaite alluded next to the vast areas of uncultivated land on the Mainland, naming especially the Chilcotin area. The mineral areas undeveloped were wonderful, as for instance the Ground Hog anthracite fields, whose product would be readily marketed in China, where he was told that there was a market which was inexhaustible. Railway communication, preferably from Stuart, would open up the Groundhog coal fields. That would want a large sum, but in opening up the Peace River beyond, it they would attain to a great development. Mr. Oliver was now prepared to support a land grant for railway access. Such was rather new in the Premier's attitude, he who had criticized land grants so often before.

Blast furnaces were suggested at Cumberland, in the Stuart district, or in the Fraser Valley, much of which depended on the best location. Passing on to the character of the capital and labor required, Mr. Hawthornthwaite said 100,000 skilled laborers from Great Britain could be absorbed with their families in five years.

He eulogized the work of the Labor Government in Great Britain and described the problem which it had inherited of unemployment from its predecessors, not of its own making.

If the hydro-electric powers were harnessed, and British capital were forthcoming, and proper administration of the companies created could be secured, he believed wonderful results would be attained shortly.

Mr. Hawthornthwaite estimated the cost of this development and colonization scheme would amount to $600,000,000, which is about the sum Great Britain is now paying out yearly to its unemployed. He believed that the Labor Government there would gladly vote this sum to British Columbia on condition that we provided here employment for say 100,000 skilled workers. British manufacturers who come to invest here could be given certain advantages under the scheme, such as free power for several years.

W. E. PEIRCE
W. E. Peirce opened his speech by quoting Bertrand Russell that the control of "everything ultimately is governed by the control of finance."

All the parties he said, were merely tax collectors.

"Montreal and Wall Street hold the reins over the Bay just as the Bank of Montreal and the bond holders hold the reins of city government," he asserted.

"What difference does a freight reduction make if it can be absorbed by the financiers in a dozen different places?" he asked.

"What is the use of mother's pensions and sick benefits if finance can cut the purchasing power of them in two?" Mr. Peirce remarked, and he next queried:

"What is the use of fixing wages when the dollar itself is not fixed?"

"What use is it to legislate how many dollars a man shall get for his work while finance can regulate how much he shall get for his dollars?"

"What use to fix the hours and conditions of his work if you leave to finance the power to say whether he shall work at all?"

"The other parties are trying to make the old machinery work," Mr. Peirce said. "The Labor Party is out to change the machinery. They are forced to use the same tools for the time being, but they will use them only to hammer out new ones. We aim," he asserted, "to set up a new social system, and in order to build we must first destroy that which is inefficient."

ESQUIMALT WILL BE REPRESENTED BY DR. J. S. MCCALLUM

Councillor Nicol Leaving
Shortly For Wembley
Exhibition

Dr. J. S. McCallum, medical health officer, was appointed by the Esquimalt Council last night, as its representative on the Jubilee Hospital Board. Dr. McCallum reported on a tuberculous case in which the council will seek to secure a pension from the authorities for the man afflicted.

Traffic and other by-laws under consideration were tabled last night to give way to a short routine agenda. The council sat at an earlier hour than usual to accommodate Rev. Alexander Lockie who left at its close to address a political gathering at Colwood.

Councillor Nicol announced his intention of leaving with Mrs. Nicol for the United Kingdom on June 22. The councillor has offered to see to the distribution of Esquimalt industrial pamphlets at the British Empire Exhibition. The council is giving some thought to the project of publishing a special booklet for the occasion setting out the advantages of Esquimalt from industrial and residential standpoints.

Councillor Nicol plans to revisit his home at Greenock, and renew his acquaintance with the shipbuilding on the Clyde.

The meeting voted a donation of $25 to the Salvation Army with an appreciation of the work of that organization within the municipality. The council decided on a one year hoist for the bathing booth project, in which the corporation was asked to assist in the erection of bathing booths at Esquimalt beaches for the benefit of swimmers. The project, though attractive, would require careful thought and adequate sanitary safeguards, decided the council. The report of the fire marshal showed few fires in the district within the last period, and those of a minor nature. A communication from the Cadboro Bay Committee as to the new telephone service was tabled for mature consideration at the next meeting. After other and minor business the council adjourned.

CONSUL DECLARED NOT EXEMPT FROM ARREST

Ottawa, June 10.—The arrest of the Spanish consul in Montreal on a charge of smuggling narcotic drugs was brought to the attention of the House of Commons yesterday afternoon by J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg Centre, who asked for a statement by the Prime Minister in regard to the protest against the arrest made by the Norwegian consul. Mr. Woodsworth asked the Premier whether Canada was, as intimated by the Norwegian consul, a "colony," and whether a consul was immune from arrest and his papers and offices exempt from search. Premier King replied to the first question by saying Canada was not a colony but a self-governing Dominion. The consul in this case had been arrested on a serious charge under the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act, said the Premier, and he knew of no provision under which he was exempt from arrest or his office exempt from search. Mr. Woodsworth asked further whether a protest would be made by the Government against the Norwegian consul's statement that Canada was a colony. "No doubt my honorable friend's remarks will serve as such," replied the Premier.

The Part Hart Batteries play in British Submarines

Dependable under the ocean—and everywhere!

British sailors volunteered for the submarine service whenever new underwater units were placed in service. They knew the reputation of the equipment chosen—and Hart Batteries drove their craft during the most critical periods of submerging.

Motor Car owners feel the same dependability in Hart Batteries for starting and ignition. The great railways depend on Hart Batteries to light their trains. The Government long-distance wireless stations depend on Hart Batteries. Hydro substations chose Hart Batteries for emergency use in case of power interruption. Phone exchanges are Hart equipped for every-day 24 hour service and when power stand-by is required the Hart Battery gives the same measure of reliance.

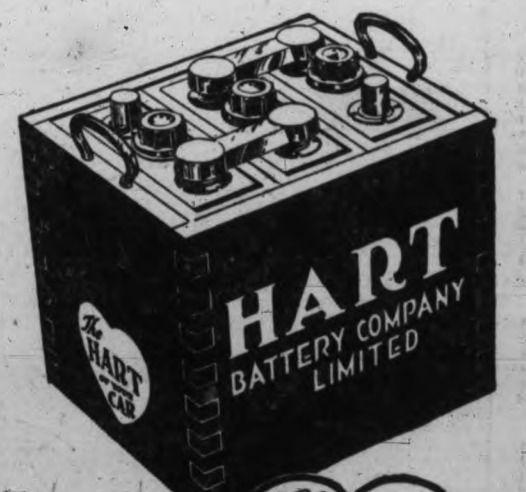

Through the whole range of storage battery service, in war and peace, in climates hot and cold, the Hart Battery name for dependability goes deeper than reputation—it is the battery with character.

800 Hart Battery stations supply equipment and complete conscientious service.

LORD RODNEY

COTTESMORE FARM, LORD RODNEY'S FARM HOME
NEAR EDMONTON, ALBERTA.

NOBLE RANCHER.—Lord Rodney is one of the most successful farmers among the group of princes, dukes and gartered knights in the Albert foothills. He specializes in breeding live stock and brings out moneyed settlers to teach them farming. Years ago he worked as a hired man on a farm while Lady Rodney acted as cook.

HE DIDN'T HAVE MUCH BRAIN MATTER!—He was the biggest beast that ever roamed the earth, but his head was no bigger than a pumpkin. Scientists think he lived about 6,000,000 years ago. They call him a "brontosaurus." Excavations by scientists near Jensen, Utah, from the Smithsonian Institution, Carnegie Institute and the University of Utah, have yielded various gigantic bones. Now, with the discovery of his skull by Dr. Earl B. Douglass, working for the Utah University, the skeleton is complete. The above picture shows the face of the dinosaur quarry and reveals the methods used in blocking out and removing sections of solid rock containing the prehistoric bones.

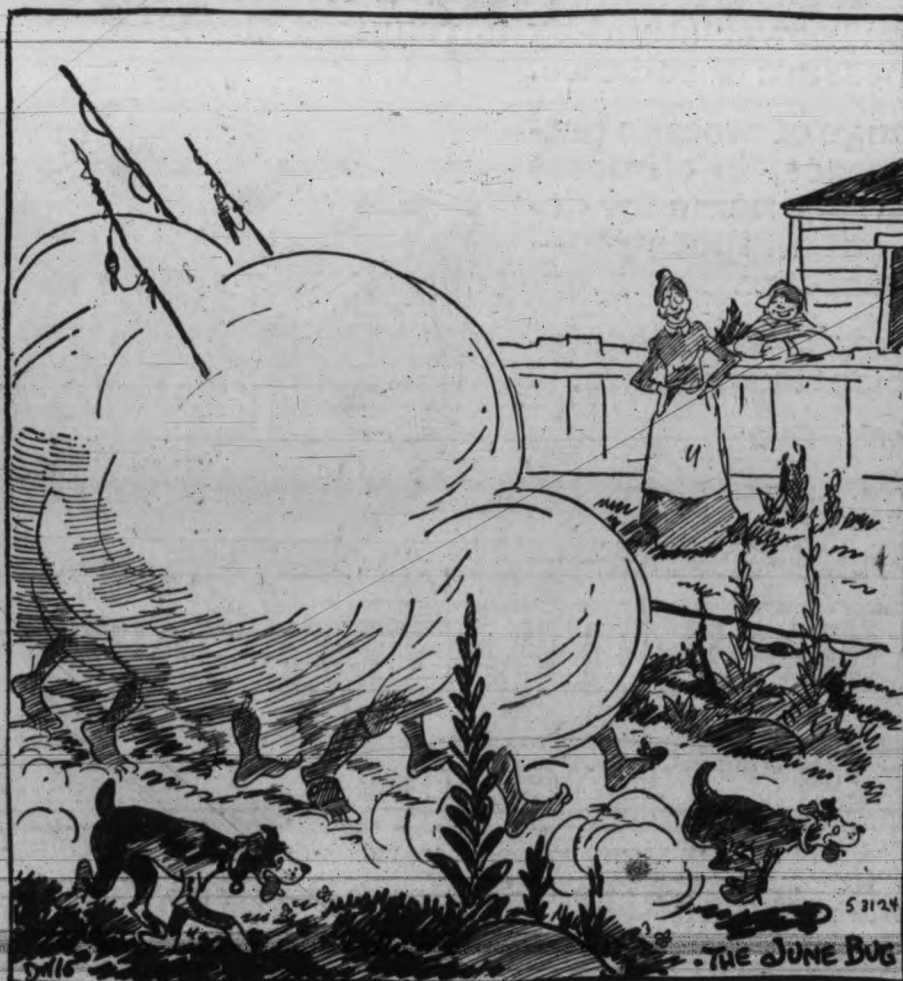

Here is another section of the Jensen quarry. It reveals a veritable mine of dinosaur bones.

Saanich Public Health Nurses Are Kept Busy

An excellent month's work at the Saanich War Memorial Health Centre was reported at the meeting of the board of directors last evening.

Mrs. Lucas, in her report, showed that fifty cases had been treated, 683 visits paid by the nurses whose total hours on duty amount to 653 hours.

In the child welfare work, 624 cases had been dealt with entailing a total of 168 visits, while at the various clinics 174 cases had been treated. Thirty-five visits were made to the school.

During the month Mrs. Lucas received requests from Nanaimo and Armstrong for pictures of public health work in Saanich. The various women's institutes again displayed helpful interest in the work, Gordon Head W.I. giving a prize for the Little Mothers' League at the Model School and paying for three days' nursing service, while Lake Hill W.I. supplied milk for an undernourished baby for three months.

Uncle Wiggily and the Apple Seeds

(Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
 By Howard R. Garis

Uncle Wiggily was hopping along through the woods one day, and as he hopped he nibbled at an apple which Nurse Jane had given him.

"This is a very good apple," said the rabbit gentleman to himself as he took another bite. "I wish every one had as fine an apple as this."

Mr. Longears looked up at the sun, he heard the wind rustling the leaves of the trees and he smelled the perfume of flowers.

"This world is a very beautiful place," said the bunny. Then he took another bite of the apple, and then another bite and so on, until nothing but the core and seeds were left.

As Uncle Wiggily didn't care to eat the core and seeds, he threw them away. Along the woodland path bounced the apple core until, all of a sudden, a boy squirrel scrambled down out of a tree and ran after the apple core.

"Hello, there, Johnnie Bushytail!"

cried Uncle Wiggily. "Don't be so anxious to get that apple—there's nothing left of it but the core and seeds. You can't eat them!"

The squirrel boy turned, and then Uncle Wiggily said that it wasn't Johnnie Bushytail at all. It was a stranger—a new, hungry-looking squirrel chap.

"Excuse me," said the squirrel boy, "my name isn't Johnnie. But do you mind if I take that apple core?"

"Mind? Of course not!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "But why do you want an old apple core that I threw away?"

"There is still something good left on it to eat," answered the squirrel boy in a low voice. "And I can take it home to my mother and sister. They are very hungry and the apple seeds will be fine for them."

"Goodness me!" cried the rabbit gentleman in surprise as the squirrel boy picked up the apple core. "You don't mean to tell me that you and your mother and sister are as hungry as you are?"

"Indeed we are," answered the squirrel boy. "We are very poor and very hungry. My father died and we had to move away from our fine house in the oak tree. There we had many nuts stored away. But the wind that blew the tree down killed my father and scattered the nuts we were saving. Then my mother and my sister and I came to these woods to live. But there are no nuts here and will be none till autumn, so we have to eat bark and what few berries we can find. Apple seeds are almost as good as nuts. I'll take these home to my mother and sister if you don't mind."

"Of course I don't mind!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "And what is more, my little squirrel boy I'll get you a lot more apple seeds."

"Oh, will you?" joyfully chattered the boy whose name was Quicker, because of the funny way he quirked his tail to one side.

"Yes," answered Uncle Wiggily. "Show me where you live and I will bring you some."

INSTRUCTIVE TALK ON EDUCATION

John Kyle Speaks on Technical Education and Its Value

Special to The Times
 Duncan, June 9.—Under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association, a most instructive and interesting lecture was given last evening by John Kyle, supervisor of technical education in the province of British Columbia. The speaker, who is a well-known authority on technical education, addressed the audience on the subject of "Technical Education and Its Value."

Mr. Kyle said that technical education was not a new thing, but that it had been a part of education since the beginning of time. He pointed out that the ancient Egyptians, Greeks and Romans all had technical education, and that it was only in the last few centuries that it has been neglected.

He said that technical education was not only a part of education, but that it was a part of life. He pointed out that the average man, whether he be a farmer, a craftsman or a professional man, must have technical education in order to be able to do his work.

ALTA SOCIETY HOLDS PICNIC

Special to The Times
 Sidney, June 9.—Under the auspices of the Alta Society of the St. Elizabeth's Church held their annual picnic on Hill Island on Sunday.

The picnicers were taken in motor launches by Captain W. D. Byers, J. Crossley and M. Marjorivitch at 10 o'clock to Hill Island where a sumptuous lunch which had been prepared by the ladies of the Alta Society was served.

After a short rest and a stroll round the island the race programme was run off with the following results:

Girls five to seven years—1. Gertrude Marjorivitch; 2. Betty Clark; 3. Marie Crossley.

Boys five to ten years—1. Fred Musculow; 2. William Thomas; 3. John Segalier.

Girls eight to ten—1. Jean Speedie; 2. Patricia Crossley.

Sack race—1. Adeline Crossley; 2. Fred Musculow; 3. Stanley Crossley.

Three-legged race—1. Adeline Crossley; 2. Teresa Thomas; 3. Stanley Crossley.

Girls twelve to fourteen—1. Teresa Thomas; 2. Adeline Crossley; 3. Annie Lidgate.

Musculow; 2. Stanley Crossley; 3. Fred Benner.

Married ladies' race—1. Mrs. W. Thomas; 2. Madame Barri; 3. Mrs. J. Crossley.

Married ladies' race—1. Mrs. J. Crossley; 2. Mrs. W. Thomas; 3. Mrs. W. C. Clark.

After the sports programme was over, the afternoon was spent in bathing and swimming, which was much enjoyed. The final item of the day's programme was supper.

The following were among those present: Mr. and Mrs. J. Crossley; Mr. and Mrs. P. Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. E. McAdams; Mrs. Drummond Davis; Mrs. Segalier; Rev. Father Schuler; Brother Joseph; W. Mitchell; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clark; and Betty, Philip Segalier, Monsieur and Madame Barri, and several friends from Saanich, Adeline Crossley, Patricia Crossley, Francis and Teresa Thomas, M. Lidgate, Teresa and Gertrude Marjorivitch, F. Benner, Marie Crossley and Jean Speedie.

LAUNCH WRECKED AND EIGHT KILLED

Santa Ana, Cal., June 10.—Six men and two boys, members of a fishing party, were pounded to death on the rocks of the Newport Bay Jetty near here when the launch in which they were heading out to sea was swamped and capsized. Five men were saved.

Except one, the six men lost were all well-known business men of Santa Ana. The two boys were the sons of a Santa Ana merchant and died with their father.

The dead: B. Newton Thornton, architect, and two sons, Allen and David; Chris Ema, tailor; A. Rogers, employed by Ema and a stranger; Santa Ana; J. C. Kelly, chiropractor; E. J. McCune, furniture dealer; E. S. Granger, electrical dealer.

The party had headed out to sea for a day's fishing when a heavy wave flooded the boat and "killed" the engine. As the craft drifted broadside on to the jetty it was hit twice again by seas, the third overturning it close to the jetty, against the rocks of which eight of the party of thirteen met their deaths.

SAMUEL GUTHRIE SPEAKS AT DUNCAN

Special to The Times
 Duncan, June 9.—There was a very good attendance in the Oddfellows Hall, Duncan on Saturday night, to hear S. Guthrie's first campaign speech in this district. Harry Mathie made an efficient chairman and R. H. Neelands also addressed the meeting. Mr. Neelands told the exact procedure with regard to the re-distribution Bill as he was on the committee. He also spoke of the 5-hour Bill and Mothers Pensions Act.

WALKER WELL RECEIVED IN HOME CITY

Special to The Times
 Ladysmen, June 9.—A capacity house greeted Mayor W. W. Walker, K.P.O. candidate for Cowichan, Newcastle riding, Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, and Thomas A. Booth of Nanaimo at a meeting held in support of Mr. Walker on Saturday night.

R. Morgan was chairman of the meeting. Mr. Walker explained that he was born and raised in the district in which he was a candidate and that he would understand the needs of the district and particularly the miners, having worked for a period in the mines himself.

Mr. Walker was cheered at the close of his address after which Mr. Booth spoke on behalf of Mr. Walker and the Oliver Government. Hon. William Sloan then gave an interesting address on his work as Minister of Mines and the great work that the Oliver Government had accomplished during their regime. The meeting closed with singing of "God Save the King" and three cheers for Mayor Walker.

Oliver Recognizes Duty to Widows and Orphans

785 mothers and 1,900 children are receiving assistance under the Mothers' Pensions Act.

The Oliver Government is not handing out "charity," but simply honoring a debt to the mothers of British Columbia.

The Mothers' Pensions Act is administered at a cost of only 3.44 per cent., and the Government bears the entire cost, whereas in other provinces the cost is shared equally by the Government and the municipalities.

ANDROS FROWNS ON NATIVE SON TALK

It's All Humbug He Says in Reply to Alderman Dewar's Plea For Jobs

A discussion on the claims of native sons of Victoria to first consideration in city appointments was started last night at the council meeting by Alderman Dewar. He raised the question when a proposal, which was eventually agreed to, to place three temporary employees of the City Hall staff on the permanent staff was before the council. The alderman asked if the men were local men, born in this city, but on protests that this was not a matter which came up at that time, urged consideration should be given to people born and raised in the city. "I do so," he said, "because there are frequent temporary appointments made for which local men should be considered."

"I do not think a native son has any greater claim than anyone else," declared Alderman Andros. "We were born where our mothers were at the time. Why should a man be an M.P. or get any other job because he is a native son? It's all humbug. You never hear it outside of Victoria. I hope none of our men running for office will make this a point. It is not where a man is born. It is what is his ability. Our Mayor is a native son. If he had been born somewhere else he would have been just as able and just as willing."

ALD. KER RESIGNS FROM DIRECTORATE OF JUBILEE HOSPITAL

The resignation of Alderman R. H. B. Ker as one of the council's representatives on the Jubilee Hospital Board of Directors was received and accepted at the City Council meeting last night. His reasons, he stated were purely personal, as he could not spare the time for the duty. Alderman Andros expressed regret that Alderman Ker had decided to resign, as the chairman of the public health committee was the logical man to be a director of the hospital. Alderman Woodward moved that Christian Sivertz be appointed to fill the vacancy, but withdrew when he learned that someone was tied with Mr. Sivertz at the election. Alderman Sargent, chairman of the finance committee, was nominated, but declined on the grounds that his committee work took up too much of his time. J. H. Hill and Christian Sivertz were nominated and Mr. Hill was elected seven votes to four. Mr. Hill is a sitting director.

"TIZ" FOR TENDER, SORE, TIRED FEET

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet, swollen, bad smelling, swollen feet. No more pain in corns, callouses or bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz." "Tiz" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" is magical. "Tiz" is grand. "Tiz" will relieve your foot troubles so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore, swollen, or tired. Get a box at any drug or department store, and get relief for a few cents.

Eight Dilapidated Buildings to be Removed, Council Decides

Eight city-owned houses, dilapidated and beyond repair were condemned and ordered torn down and removed by the City Council last night. The buildings which had been inspected by the land committee and sanitary and building inspectors were frame dwellings at 2413 Douglas Street, outbuildings rear of 608 Burnside, shack at 2344 Shelbourne Street, frame dwelling 1603 Hillside Avenue, frame dwellings 1201, 1203, 1207 and 1209 Quadra Street, frame sheds, on south side of Kingston Street, between Montreal and Oswego streets, frame sheds on north side of Kingston Street, between Oswego and Menzies Street, frame dwellings and outbuildings at 605 Government Street.

$24,000 A YEAR FOR JUBILEE HOSPITAL

The sum of $24,000 per annum payable at the rate of $2,000 per month will be made by the City Council to the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital. The amount is in full discharge of the city's liability under the Hospital's Act for unpaid bills for patients classed as indigents. The recommendation of the health committee along these lines was adopted by the council last evening. George McGregor for the hospital board wrote expressing agreement with the arrangement, "providing that the hospital is not used as an old men's or old women's home." He suggested the year start from April 1.

City Hall Gossip

IMMIGRATION
No reply having yet been received from the Trades and Labor Council regarding the letter from Mayor Hiltz of Toronto calling for a halt in emigration to Canada, the matter was allowed to lie on the table for another week at last night's council meeting.

TO ERECT STALL
Permission was granted last night by the City Council for the Victoria West Brotherhood to erect a stall and sell soft drinks at Songhees Park Wednesday on the occasion of school sports arranged by the Victoria West Parent-Teacher Association and the Brotherhood.

ACCIDENT CLAIM
A claim from Mrs. Alice N. Ralnes for $200 compensation on account of drugist's and doctor's bill incurred through an accident last May in the market building was referred to the solicitor by the City Council last night. When the matter was before the council on a previous occasion the letter was filed on the grounds that there were no conditions at the market building which would make the council liable for the accident.

GASOLINE TANK
Permission was granted last night by the council for the Vancouver Island Milk Producers' Association to install a 250-gallon gasoline tank at 930 North Park Street.

WATER PRESSURE
The City Engineer was asked by the council last night to bring in a report regarding complaints of an insufficient water force in the Topaz Avenue district. Mrs. E. Severa writing to the council also alleged conditions were unsanitary because of the need of a new pipe along Hillside Avenue.

EVEN EXCHANGE
An even exchange with the city by which Lemph. Gonnason and Company turned over two lots on Spring Ridge, adjoining the garbage pit and five lots on Finlayson Street for three lots on Rock Bay Avenue was suggested to the council last night by the company. The lots the City Council owned adjacent to the Lemph. Gonnason and Company's plant, and could be utilized for lumber piling and millwood storage. The matter was referred to the reverted lands committee.

HIGHWAY GRANT
The City Council last night referred to the finance committee an application from Frank Giloma, secretary of the Canadian Highway Association for $500 to enable the association to continue its efforts to have an all-Canadian highway built from Halifax to Victoria.

TURNED DOWN
The City Council last night turned down an application from the V.I. A.A. for a grant of $75 towards the fund to pay the expense of Dr. Cecil Hay, the club's representative at the Olympic trials at Toronto and Montreal.

A PENSION
A grant of $10.00 to Mrs. Moss towards the upkeep of an incapacitated husband was agreed to by the City Council last night. A mother's pension has been granted on condition that the city makes this grant.

TENDER ACCEPTED
The council last night accepted the tender of the Reliable Press of $215.00 for printing 16,000 general tax notices.

TO PAY WIDOW
The City Council last night agreed to the proposal of the police commission to pay to the widow of P. C. Carter who died in March at the age of eighty-five years, the balance of the year's salary.

CALL FOR TENDER
Permission was granted to the city purchasing agent by the City Council last night to call for tenders for supplying 65 uniforms, 400 feet of 2 1/2-inch fire hose, 250 feet of 1 1/2-inch fire hose and 250 feet of 3/4-inch chemical hose.

A farmer was showing his old mare to a friend. "Yes," he said, "I've got to part with the old girl. What do you think of her?" The friend looked at the mare critically. "Well," he said at last, "if she only had a hump, you could sell her for a camel."

INDIGANT WOMEN CORNER ALDERMAN

Public Works Chairman Bearded After Council Meeting to Hear Flood Troubles

Chafing at the delay of the City Council in getting anywhere past the "discussion and consideration" stage in granting relief from flooded conditions of their homes in the Bowker Creek area of the Oaklands district, three highly indignant women bearded Alderman Sangster after the council meeting last night, and in a torrent of words poured forth their tale of woe to the chairman of the public works committee.

CORNERED!
Backed up in a corner near the entrance to the City Hall, the alderman was unable to leave until he had again heard the story of flooded basements, unsanitary ditches and sickness caused by the conditions. These things cannot be done at once. You must be patient," said Alderman Sangster, but his plea for patience was like putting a match to the fuel as far as the over-tried women were concerned.

"Don't talk to us about being patient," said one of them, stamping her foot ominously. "That is the trouble. We have been too patient. When you have so much water in your basement, measuring off with your hands about three feet, it is no time to talk about being patient. When you have to put gum boots on your children you don't wait for the trouble we have been too patient."

An expressive Oh! Oh! Oh! Oh! from the ladies greeted Alderman Sangster's argument that the city was not responsible for insanitary drainage into the creek.

The City Solicitor's suggestions for transferring the houses on to lots by the city was before the council last night but no action was taken until the council has given the subject further consideration.

TRANSFER GIVEN
Mr. Pringle's report to the public works committee stated he was of the opinion that the transaction should be effected by independent sale and purchase in the case of each property. The sale of reverted lots upon which the houses are to be moved should be by way of admitting liability for the damage created by the flooding of Bowker's Creek.

In carrying out any such agreement it should be made clear that the city is not in any way admitting liability for the damage created by the flooding of Bowker's Creek.

REGISTRATION OF TOURISTS HEAVY

From Forty to Fifty Per Cent Greater Than Last Year, Publicity Bureau Finds

An increase of between forty and fifty per cent in the registrations at the Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau during the last ten days as compared with the corresponding period last year is reported. Twenty thousand new folders just off the press have been spoken for and the Bureau representatives, Oliver Hollingsworth in Spokane, Harold Palmer in Seattle, and P. W. Tuftrey report a big demand for information on Vancouver Island. Glowing reports have been sent by the agents to the head office with frequent lists of names of tourists who plan to spend part of the summer here.

In addition to the regular advertising channels, Victoria is being well featured in various magazines. This month's Pacific Coast Motorist contains a four-page article by Frank Giloma illustrated with nine well-selected pictures. A request has also been received from the magazine for an article on the whole of Vancouver Island for a future issue.

In the A.T.A. Magazine, the official organ of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance, there is a well-written article by Harry Charlesworth, secretary of the Canadian Teachers' Federation, describing Victoria as the convention city where the teachers will meet this summer.

HEARTY WELCOME IS ACCORDED LIBERALS BY SAANICH CROWD

Pleasing Reception Given Hon. F. A. Pauline and H. C. Hall, K.C.

F. A. Pauline, Liberal candidate in the Saanich constituency which he has represented in the Provincial House for the past eight years, and where he has also served both as speaker and deputy-speaker of the House, last night addressed one of the best gatherings which yet has greeted him in his campaigning in his riding, when he visited the electors of Saanich. He was given a hearty welcome, as also was Henry C. Hall, K.C., speaking on his behalf.

Mr. Pauline spoke upon the taxation question in the Province of British Columbia, showing clearly the extent of the Government's responsibility in administering the affairs of this vast territory, of which less than one per cent was municipal land, and showing the reason, in this, for the tremendous cost of up-keep and general expenditure in the country. But the burden of taxation was not carried by the municipality, he asserted, for the Government returned more to them than they received in taxes during the year. Actually, for every $100 received, the Government gave back $110.

PROVINCE'S GROWTH
The reason for any increase in expenditures which the Liberal administration had incurred were explained by the speaker when he stated that as the Province advanced, so the expenses of the Government rose higher. Greater outlay of public money was a certain indication of the growth of the Province, he said, and was a compliment to the competent manner in which the Liberal authorities had handled the financial situation of British Columbia. He alluded briefly to the well-known fact of how the Liberal administration regained the credit lost to British Columbia by the late Conservative regime, and said that he hoped that a similar situation might never arise when Liberals would be called upon to undo the damage wrought by their friends of the opposition party.

He spoke, too, upon the export duty on logs, saying that any such legislation would immediately kill what little export of uncut logs British Columbia sent to the United States. This export consisted solely of timber which was useless in B.C. mills, he said, where there was only requirement for certain varieties of logs.

"This provincial debt of ours is an old story," said Mr. Pauline, "but one which bears repeating, for it is constantly being enlarged upon and exaggerated by our opponents. Allowing for our assets in our sinking funds, which, I might say are in better condition than those of any other province in Canada, and in fact richer than those of the Dominion Government, and the revenue-producing debts which are ours, the net debt of British Columbia is only $34,000,000, no more and no less, without counting such assets existing in such things as roads and public buildings; although there are some who would wish to believe differently."

LET, OLIVER FINISH
Mr. Hall spoke upon the tremendous fight which Premier John Oliver was waging for reduced freight rates, and the consequences which had already arisen from this energetic campaign. British Columbia had achieved at least a part of its desire, through the efforts of the Premier, in the reduction of these rates by a considerable figure on the subject of grain, and also general commodities, which meant a great saving for provincial capital. These reduced rates would enable British Columbia to cater at greater ease, and in fairer competition, with the great grain shipping ports of the Canadian East, he asserted. "It is John Oliver's fight," he said, "and Mr. Oliver should be allowed to finish it—that is a right he has every reason to expect."

Both speakers answered pertinent questions relative to the Government's legislative and the campaigns at present being waged by all parties, but there was an absence of heckling which was encouraging to the speakers, and the audience was pleased with the addresses.

Notice to Breeders of Livestock

Mr. Erick Bowman, the discoverer of The Bowman Remedy, claims that in treating 70,000 cattle in the United States the results have been successful in 98% of the cases treated.

Are your dairy cows and heifers causing you trouble? Are you obtaining results in calves and milk that satisfy you? Do your cows (according to your knowledge of their capacity) produce as much milk as they should—or are you marking time and feeding a number of boarders that should be sent to the butcher?

These are matters that can be put right. Delays are fatal. Why not consult
